NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS at BUFFALO BILLS

Sunday, Sept. 7, 2003 ★ Ralph Wilson Stadium (73,967) ★ 1:00 p.m.

The Patriots travel to Buffalo to kick off the 2003 season against the Bills this Sunday. Six weeks of on-field preparation and an offseason of improvement will be on display as the Patriots look to start the season on a winning note against their divisional rival. New England is fresh off of its first undefeated preseason in 22 years and will hope to translate its exhibition success into a strong start to the regular season.

But with the preseason slate wiped clean, the Patriots have turned the page to the regular season to begin their quest to return to the playoffs. It all kicks off against the Bills, a team against whom they have had recent success. New England swept the season series with Buffalo in 2002 and owns a string of five straight wins over the Bills. The victories have not been without drama though, with four of the five wins coming by 10 points or less and two coming in overtime.

Bills quarterback Drew Bledsoe will face his former team for the third time, leading a Buffalo attack that ranked fifth in the NFL in pass offense a season ago. Bledsoe and leading receiver Eric Moulds will see an improved Patriots defense in front of them, with linebacker Roosevelt Colvin, nose tackle Ted Washington and safety Rodney Harrison all looking to make noise in their Patriots debuts alongside 2002 Pro Bowlers Richard Seymour and Ty Law.

The Patriots offense put up a total of 65 points against the Bills in 2002 as quarterback Tom Brady threw for five touchdowns without an interception. This year, the New England offense will have to contend with a revamped Buffalo defense featuring two key free agent signings: linebacker Takeo Spikes and defensive tackle Sam Adams.

TELEVISION: This week's game will be televised by CBS. The game can be seen locally on WBZ-TV Channel 4 in Boston. Verne Lundquist will handle the play-by-play duties and Dan Dierdorf will provide analysis. Bonnie Bernstein will provide reports from the sidelines throughout the game. Following the game, the Fifth Quarter postgame show can be seen on WSBK-TV Channel 38 in Boston.

RADIO: WBCN 104.1 FM is the flagship station for the Patriots Rock Radio Network. Play-by-play broadcaster Gil Santos is in his 27th season as the voice of the Patriots, and calls the action along with Patriots Hall of Famer Gino Cappelletti. In 2003, Santos and Cappelletti celebrate their 20th season as a broadcast tandem. A complete listing of WBCN's Patriots Rock Radio Network affiliates can be found on page 12 of this press release.

PATRIOTS VS. AFC EAST

The Patriots are 9-2 in their last 11 games against AFC East opponents, dating back to the 2001 season. In 2002, the Patriots finished the season with a 4-2 record against their divisional rivals. The Patriots have not opened the season against an AFC East team since the 1999 season. That year, the Patriots traveled to the Meadowlands and defeated the New York Jets 30-28 on Sept. 12, 1999. The Patriots are 11-7 (.611) throughout their history when opening the season against divisional opponents.

PERFECT PRESEASON

New England won all four of its preseason contests, finishing the exhibition slate undefeated for the third time in club history. The Patriots were also perfect in the preseason in 1978 and 1981. By finishing the exhibition schedule with a 4-0 record, the Patriots posted a winning record in the preseason for the fourth straight year and for the seventh time in the past eight years. The Patriots have translated preseason success into the regular season by qualifying for the playoffs four of the past six times they have recorded a winning record in the preseason. The last six times the Patriots have made the playoffs they have had a winning preseason record.

The Patriots had a successful preseason on both sides of the ball. The defense previewed its muscle, allowing just one rushing touchdown while leading the NFL with 19 preseason sacks. On offense, the Patriots led the AFC by scoring 108 points in the preseason, just two shy of the NFL lead. Quarterback Tom Brady had the best preseason of any quarterback in the league, throwing an NFL-high six touchdowns and compiling a league-leading 116.7 quarterback rating.

THIS WEEK: PATRIOTS VS. BILLS

SERIES HISTORY

This week, the Patriots and Bills will meet for the 87th time since the series between the AFC East rivals began in 1960. The Patriots lead the series 46-39, with one tie. The Patriots' 46 wins over Buffalo are their most over any opponent, seven more than they own over Indianapolis (39). New England has won its last five games against Buffalo, dating back to the 2000 season. The Patriots' five-game streak is their longest active winning streak over an opponent and their longest winning streak against the Bills since they won 11 straight from 1982-87. The teams have had many memorable matchups over the years, including a five-game span from 1999 to 2001 where four of the five contests were decided in overtime.

LAST SEASON'S RESULTS

New England 38, Buffalo 7 – November 3, 2002

The Patriots snapped a four-game losing streak with a convincing win over the Bills in Buffalo. Tom Brady set a franchise record by completing 84.6 percent of his passes (22-26), good for 265 yards and three touchdowns. Antowain Smith ran for 111 yards on 29 attempts against his former team and scored three touchdowns (two receiving, one rushing). The Patriots defense held Buffalo's offense (which entered the game ranked second in the NFL) to just one touchdown and 65 yards rushing.

New England turned a 17-7 halftime lead into a runaway win with 21 second-half points as the Patriots defense kept the Bills offense off the board in the second half. Kevin Faulk took a lateral from Brady and ran for a 45-yard touchdown to give New England a 24-7 lead with 7:33 left in the third quarter. On the Patriots' next possession, they put together an 11-play, 76-yard drive that ended in a 2-yard touchdown plunge by Smith that made the score 31-7. Smith scored his third touchdown of the afternoon on a 14-yard pass from Brady in the fourth quarter that made the score 38-7.

New England faced former quarterback Drew Bledsoe for the first time since trading the former first-round pick to Buffalo in April, 2002.

New England 27, Buffalo 17 – December 8, 2002

The Patriots improved to 8-5 and swept the season series with the Bills in a 27-17 win at Gillette Stadium. New England scored on its first four possessions to jump out to a 20-0 lead at halftime, then held on in the second half for the victory. Tom Brady completed 15 passes to 10 different receivers, including touchdown passes to David Patten and Donald Hayes in a 21-second span in the first quarter. The Patriots defense recorded a season-high four interceptions and the offense scored 17 points off turnovers.

The Patriots started off the game with a 39-yard field goal by Adam Vinatieri, then Brady and Patten connected for a 10-yard score on their next possession to put the Patriots in the lead, 10-0. On the Bills' first play after Patten's touchdown catch, Richard Seymour intercepted a Drew Bledsoe pass and returned it to the Bills' 9-yard line. Two plays later, Brady found Hayes for a 9-yard touchdown pass and the Patriots opened up a 17-0 advantage with 3:14 left in the first quarter. In the second quarter, Tebucky Jones intercepted Bledsoe in the end zone and the Patriots converted the turnover into a field goal for a 20-0 halftime lead.

The second half saw Buffalo cut the lead to 20-10 on a Mike Hollis field goal and a 12-yard touchdown pass from Bledsoe to Eric Moulds. But, the Patriots came up with another turnover on a Peerless Price fumble and turned the opportunity into another score on a 4-yard touchdown run by Antowain Smith. The Patriots came up with two more interceptions in the fourth quarter to keep Buffalo at bay.

LAST WEEK: PATRIOTS 38, BEARS 23

PATRIOTS 38, BEARS 23

August 27, 2003 ★ Gillette Stadium (Att: 68,436)

	1	2	3	4	Final
Chicago Bears	7	3	13	0	— 23
New England Patriots	0	10	7	21	— 38

The Patriots closed out their third undefeated preseason in franchise history and their first unblemished exhibition mark in 22 seasons with a 38-23 win over the Chicago Bears at Gillette Stadium. The Patriots' seventh straight preseason win was their closest of the 2003 preseason, rallying from a 23-17 fourth-quarter deficit to score the game's final 21 points and secure the win.

The Patriots once again got strong play from the quarterback position, with Tom Brady and Rohan Davey combining to complete 21 of 34 passes for 264 yards and two touchdowns with no interceptions. Dedic Ward recorded the Patriots only 100-yard receiving performance of the preseason, gaining 100 yards on five catches, including a touchdown. Patrick Pass ran in a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns as the Patriots gained 125 yards rushing, their highest ground output of an exhibition season that saw the team break the 100-yard rushing barrier in each game.

The teams began the game by trading punts before each team scored twice on successive drives. Chicago opened the scoring on a 3-yard touchdown toss from Kordell Stewart to Marty Booker to give the Bears a 7-0 lead 12:24 into the game. It marked the first time all preseason the Patriots had trailed in a game and was the first time the Patriots had surrendered points in the first quarter. The Patriots immediately responded by marching 63 yards in eight plays to tie the score at seven on an 8-yard touchdown pass from Brady to Troy Brown. Right after the Patriots broke onto the board, the Bears used a 43-yard kickoff return by Ahmad Merritt to put themselves in position for a 51-yard field goal from Paul Edinger that gave Chicago a 10-7 advantage. Rohan Davey relieved Brady at quarterback, leading the Patriots' counter-punch with an impressive 18-play drive that spanned 71 yards and chewed up 9:43, ending in a 31-yard field goal by Adam Vinatieri. The field goal tied the score at 10 going into halftime.

The Patriots came up with a defensive score in the third quarter to take their first lead of the game. After the Patriots missed a field goal, Chicago drove down to the Patriots' 7-yard line and looked primed to take the lead. But on third-and-two, rookie Dan Klecko forced Chicago's Rabih Abdullah to fumble the football. Cornerback Leonard Myers scooped up the loose ball and ran 93 yards for a touchdown and a 17-10 lead for the Patriots. The Bears matched the challenge, though, by driving down for a 22-yard touchdown toss from Rex Grossman to Merritt to tie the score at 17. Chicago took advantage of a Patriots miscue on the next drive by coming up with a fumble return for a touchdown of their own, when safety Cameron Worrell picked up a Patrick Pass fumble and ran 30 yards for the score. The Bears missed a two-point conversion try but maintained a 23-17 lead heading into the fourth quarter.

Pass atoned for his mistake on the next drive, rattling off a 21-yard touchdown run four plays after the fumble and gave the Patriots a 24-23 lead. After the Patriots defense forced a Chicago three-and-out, Pass connected again, this time with a 1-yard touchdown plunge to put the Patriots in front 31-23. The Patriots defense forced their second straight three-and-out and the offense continued their scoring barrage, getting their third straight touchdown drive ending in a 9-yard touchdown from Davey to Ward and a 38-23 Patriots advantage. The Patriots defense held the Bears at bay one final time to close out the victory and the Patriots first undefeated preseason since 1981.

THEY SAID IT

HEAD COACH BILL BELICHICK

(On the success of the preseason)

"I think that there were some positive things that we accomplished here in preseason. I think we still have got a lot of work to do. But on balance, looking at the whole preseason, I think we accomplished a few things. We were certainly a lot better than we were when we started and I think that we have a long way to go and a lot of work to do. Right now our sight is on Buffalo. We know that will be tough."

(On going undefeated in the preseason)

"I don't think it means anything. What we have done in the preseason is try to prepare our team for the opener against Buffalo and the 16-game regular season schedule. Everybody is 0-0. I think what is important is what we have been able to take away from these games in terms of teaching and learning and playing together in game conditions. I think those are the positives that we have for preseason. I don't think the record is that significant."

(On transitioning into the regular season)

"There is an old saying that no game is more quickly forgotten than the last preseason game. I think there's a lot of truth to that."

QB TOM BRADY

(On the team's preseason success)

"I think the preseason is about getting out and figuring out who is going to be on the team and the roles of certain people. The wins and losses don't mean much. Coach said after the game that everybody is 0-0 and everyone is starting on the same playing field."

SPECIAL GUESTS

Ron Burton and over 100 children from the Ron Burton Training Village were in attendance for the game against Chicago, in what has become an annual treat for the graduates of the Burton Training Village since 1997. This year, the Patriots established an award in Burton's honor to recognize the Patriot who has contributed the most to the community. Burton, the Patriots' first draft pick in the 1960 AFL draft, has served as a model for community involvement. Guard Joe Andruzzi was presented with the first annual award at the Patriots Charitable Foundation Kickoff Gala on Aug. 25.

2003 PRESEASON RECAP

PATRIOTS 26, GIANTS 6

Aug. 7, 2003 ★ Gillette Stadium (Att: 68,436)

	1	2	3	4	Final
Giants	0	6	0	0	— 6
Patriots	10	3	7	6	— 26

The Patriots began the preseason on an encouraging note with a convincing 26-6 win over the New York Giants. The Patriots had notable performances on offense, defense and special teams, jumping out to a 10-0 first-quarter lead and never looking back. The Patriots defense allowed the Giants just a pair of second-quarter field goals and recorded seven sacks while forcing four Giants turnovers. The New England offense capitalized, turning three of the four turnovers into scoring drives that netted 13 points. The Patriots special teams were also solid as Adam Vinatieri was 4-for-4 on field goal attempts.

The Patriots wasted little time making noise at the outset of the contest, coming up with a turnover and a subsequent touchdown just 1:24 into the game. On the Giants' second play from scrimmage, linebacker Rosevelt Colvin stripped the ball from New York's Tiki Barber and Ted Johnson fell on the loose football to give the Patriots offense possession at the Giants' 22-yard line. Tom Brady and the Patriots offense needed just three plays to reach paydirt, as Troy Brown hauled in a Brady pass from 16 yards out to give New England a quick 7-0 lead.

After exchanging punts, New England again came up with a turnover that was transformed into points. On third down deep in Giants territory, cornerback Tyrone Poole intercepted a Kerry Collins pass and brought it back 11 yards to the Giants' 10-yard line. Vinatieri hit a 25-yard field goal four plays later to give the Patriots a 10-0 lead with all points coming courtesy of turnovers.

Damon Huard relieved Brady at quarterback in the second quarter and made waves with his first two throws of the evening, completing a 32-yard pass to Christian Fauria on his first play, and following it up with a 13-yard completion to David Givens. Vinatieri nailed his second field goal of the game on the drive, giving the Patriots a 13-6 advantage at halftime.

In the second half, the defense kept the Giants at bay with five sacks, and the offense matched its first half output with 13 more points. Rookie Dan Klecko helped set the defensive tone, teaming with Antwan Harris to stop Ron Dayne for no gain on the Giants' first play of the half and then sacking Jesse Palmer on New York's second play as the Giants went three-and-out. Quarterback Rohan Davey came in to take charge of the offense, and completed a 42-yard bomb to rookie wideout Bethel Johnson as part of a scoring drive that ended in a 6-yard touchdown to Fred McCrary that put the Patriots in command, 20-6.

In the fourth quarter, Vinatieri hit field goals of 24 and 46 yards to round out the Patriots' scoring. The New England defense came up with two more turnovers (an interception by Leonard Myers and a fumble caused by Ethan Kelley) to keep the Giants off the board and preserve the 26-6 victory.

PATRIOTS 20, REDSKINS 13

Aug. 16, 2003 ★ FedEx Field (Att: 68,980)

	1	2	3	4	Final
Patriots	13	0	7	0	— 20
Redskins	0	7	3	3	— 13

The Patriots traveled to Washington and came home with their fifth straight preseason win, raising their 2003 preseason record to 2-0 with a 20-13 win over the Redskins at FedEx Field. A pair of big plays proved to be invaluable to the Patriots cause. David Patten hauled in an 85-yard bomb from Tom Brady in the first quarter, and Bethel Johnson returned a kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter to provide some of the evening's highlights.

The Patriots wasted little time in getting things going, scoring a touchdown on their first offensive possession for the second straight week. After the New England defense forced the Redskins to punt from their own 4-yard line, the Patriots marched 40 yards in six plays, capped off by a 5-yard touchdown scamper by Antowain Smith that gave the Patriots a 6-0 lead. On the Redskins' ensuing possession, the Patriots forced a turnover in the red zone when Eugene Wilson intercepted a pass by Washington QB Patrick Ramsey at the Patriots' 3-yard line. Brady and the Patriots offense picked up the momentum, as the Patriots signal caller hit Patten on a deep route three plays later for an 85-yard touchdown toss and a 13-0 Patriots lead with just 8:17 gone in the game.

In the second quarter, the Patriots defense forced two straight three-and-outs before Washington got on the scoreboard with a 6-yard touchdown run by Trung Canidate to make the score 13-7. Patriots kicker Adam Vinatieri saw a lengthy 56-yard field goal try sail wide left as time ran out in the half, keeping the Patriots at a six-point advantage going into the intermission.

The second half saw the Redskins chip further into the Patriots lead when a John Hall field goal made the score 13-10 with 3:32 left in the quarter. But the Patriots responded immediately when rookie wideout Bethel Johnson stepped on the gas and returned the ensuing kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown to give New England a 20-10 cushion.

Washington did not go without a fight, but the Patriots defense was up to the task of preserving the fourth-quarter lead. The Redskins were forced to settle for a field goal after their first possession of the final quarter saw them earn a first down on the Patriots 18-yard line. Hall's 47-yard boot made the score 20-13, and the Redskins mounted a final drive at the end of the game to try for a potential game-tying (or game-winning) touchdown. But, Patriots safety Chris Akins intercepted a pass from Washington's Gibran Hamdan at the Patriots 25-yard line with 21 seconds left to end the Redskins chances and send the Patriots back to New England with a 2-0 preseason mark.

PATRIOTS 24, EAGLES 12

Aug. 22, 2003 ★ Lincoln Financial Field (Att: 66,279)

	1	2	3	4	Final
Patriots	10	7	7	0	— 24
Eagles	0	3	0	9	— 12

The Patriots won their third straight game to open the 2003 preseason, defeating Philadelphia 24-12 in the first football game at the Eagles' new Lincoln Financial Field. It was the second straight season the Patriots beat the Eagles in the first game at a new venue, following up a 16-15 win over Philadelphia in the first football game at Gillette Stadium in 2002.

Tom Brady had his most productive outing of the preseason, completing 14 of 24 passes for 148 yards and three touchdowns without an interception in two-and-a-half quarters of work. Brady found David Patten for touchdown completions of 21 and 12 yards as the Patriots built a 17-3 halftime lead. On defense, the Patriots did not allow Philadelphia to score an offensive touchdown, and allowed the Eagles just 51 yards rushing.

As has been the trend this preseason, the Patriots jumped out to a lead in the first quarter. Patriots linebacker Roman Phifer forced Eagles quarterback Donovan McNabb to fumble at the Patriots 25-yard line and the Patriots took possession. New England proceeded to march down the field on a 4-play, 70-yard drive that ended in a 21-yard touchdown from Brady to Patten. Patriots wideout Deion Branch drew a 37-yard pass interference penalty that aided the drive and helped the Patriots claim a 7-0 lead. The Patriots took advantage of another Eagles miscue to score again before the quarter was over. After the Patriots went three-and-out, Philadelphia's Lito Sheppard muffed the punt and New England linebacker Don Davis recovered the football at the Eagles' 14-yard line. The Patriots settled for a 27-yard field goal by Adam Vinatieri to take a 10-0 lead.

The second quarter saw the Eagles chip back with a David Akers field goal that made the score 10-3, but the Patriots responded with a strong drive just before halftime. New England got the ball at its own 26-yard line with 4:31 left and marched to the end zone on a 13-play, 74-yard drive that ended in another touchdown connection between Brady and Patten, this one good for 21 yards and a 17-3 halftime advantage.

As the second half began, the Patriots took firmer command of the game. New England followed up its impressive drive to end the first half with another solid series to open the second half. Brady led the team 61 yards in 12 plays in a touchdown drive that culminated in a 5-yard score from Brady to tight end Daniel Graham, putting the Patriots at a 24-3 advantage.

The Eagles whittled into the Patriots lead in the fourth quarter on a 45-yard field goal by Akers and a 66-yard interception return for a touchdown by Ivory McCoy. But, the Patriots held on for the 24-12 win to improve to 3-0 on the preseason and hand the Eagles their first exhibition loss of 2003.

	1	2	3	4	Final
Pittsburgh Steelers	7	0	0	7	— 14
New England Patriots	7	3	17	3	— 30

The Patriots celebrated the Grand Opening of Gillette Stadium with a 30-14 win over the Pittsburgh Steelers on Monday Night Football. The game was a rematch of the 2001 AFC Championship game, a contest in which the Patriots traveled to Pittsburgh and upset the Steelers 24-17 to reach Super Bowl XXXVI. Tom Brady threw for 294 yards and three touchdowns and the Patriots defense forced five Pittsburgh turnovers, including three interceptions off of Kordell Stewart. The New England defense also recorded five sacks. The Patriots held a 30-7 lead before the Steelers ran in a touchdown as time expired in the game, and notched a 30-14 win, their first season-opening victory since 1999. The victory was the Patriots' 10th in a row, including playoff games. Prior to the game, the Patriots' Super Bowl XXXVI banner was raised and Owner Robert Kraft welcomed fans to the Patriots' new home.

MAGIC NUMBER = 21

The Patriots magic number in 2002 was 21. They won all eight games in 2002 when they scored 21 points or more, including their 27-24 overtime victory over the Miami Dolphins in the season finale. They were 1-7 when they scored 20 points or less. This preseason, the Patriots won all four of their games and scored at least 21 points three times.

LAW AND ORDER

TY LAW is tied with Ron Hall, Roland James and Fred Marion for second place in Patriots history with 29 interceptions. Raymond Clayborn leads all Patriot defenders with 36 interceptions (see below). Law can take sole possession of second place in Patriots history and become just the second Patriot to record at least 30 career interceptions with just one more pick.

THE PATRIOTS DEFENSE finished the 2002 season with 34 sacks. In the 2003 preseason, the sack attack was turned into high gear as the Patriots led the NFL with 19 sacks. Four different Patriots registered 4.5 or more sacks in 2002, led by Richard Seymour and Willie McGinest with 5.5 apiece. Only four other AFC teams and six clubs league-wide had four or more players finish the season with at least 4.5 sacks.

TROY BROWN'S RECORD RUN

TROY BROWN's 281 receptions over the past three seasons are the highest three-year total in Patriots history. Tight end Ben Coates ranks second with a three-year total of 242 (1994-96).
