WILLIAM H. SULLIVAN JR.
President
MICHAEL J. HOLOVAK
General Manager and Head Coach

Dear Friends in the Communications Media:

We of the Boston Patriots again wish to express our gratitude to the tireless workers of the press, radio and television for their contributions to professional football in general and ourselves in particular. The Patriots' family is especially thankful to those in the communications field who so loyally supported us through a disappointing 1967 season.

The year 1968 holds both a challenge and bright prospects for us. We welcome you to share in the adventure.

For your past kindnesses we wish to thank not only the people in Boston who have helped us with the space and time which they have so generously provided but also to writers throughout New England and to radio and TV announcers who have raised their voices to describe the unfolding saga of the Patriots.

When the history of this franchise is finally written, the major contributions of the communications people must figure prominently in telling the story properly.

Sincerely,

William H. Sullivan, Jr.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Gerry Moore

November 29 — Franchise awarded to William H. Sullivan, Jr.

December — Nine other equal owners announced, including Joseph E. Sullivan, Dan Marr, Paul Sonnabend, the late Edgar Turner, Ed McMann, Dean Boylan, Dom DiMaggio, John Ames, Jr., and the late George Sargent.

Mike Holovak becomes first executive hired as Director of Player Personnel.

January—Ed McKeever named General Manager. Contest held that produced name of Patriots. Red, white and blue chosen as official colors. Lou Saban named Head Coach.

Became first professional sports club to issue public stock. William Kemble elected to represent 1600 non-voting stockholders.

July 4 — Fittingly opened first training camp at University of Massachusetts in Amherst. More than 300 players passed through camp before completion.

August 14 — Presented first professional sports event ever held in Harvard Stadium, losing preseason charity contest to Dallas Texans.

September 9 — Played league's first regular season game and dropped 13 to 10 decision to Denver at Boston University Field. 21,597 fans welcomed pro football back at Boston after 11-year absence.

November 18 — Drew AFL's first sellout crowd with 27,123 for 24 to 10 loss to Houston.

January — Engineered league's biggest trade to date, acquiring Babe Parilli and Billy Lott from Oakland Raiders in return for Alan Miller, the late Dick Christy and Hal Smith.

October 10 — Mike Holovak replaced Lou Saban as head coach after 2-3 start. Mike introduced shotgun quarterback system, alternating Parilli and Butch Songin each play and had 7-1-1 for rest of season, but Houston went unbeaten to clinch Eastern title by one game. Parilli took over as No. 1 quarterback for last three games. Gino Cappelletti, converted to split end, won first of five scoring titles.

April — George Sargent died suddenly and his share of ownership was taken over by his brother Francis, present Lieut. Governor of Massachusetts.

A George Sargent Memorial trophy was established to go annually to Patriot player who best exemplified qualities of the deceased owner.

Forrester (Tim) Clark took over interests of John Ames.

Holovak added new staff of Asst. Coaches in Art Spinney, Marion Campbell, and Fred Bruney.

Opened home season with 34 to 21 win over Houston at Harvard Stadium before 32,276 fans, comprising a record Boston crowd up until that time. Nick Buoniconti made first start in this game.

Babe Parilli suffered broken collar-bone in 10th game when Pats were leading Eastern Division by half-game. Ultimately lost title by same margin on final weekend.

Bill Sullivan elected President of AFL for first of two straight terms that were highlighted by signing of new five-year, $36,000,000 TV contract with National Broadcasting Co

Shifted home field to Fenway Park.

Played home opener at Boston College to complete cycle of appearing at three Greater Boston universities with large enough playing accommodations.

December 28 — Won Eastern Division title with 26 to 8 triumph at Buffalo in AFL's only division playoff in history.

1964

Lost championship game in San Diego.

Mike Holovak named General Manager in addition to Head Coach.

Tom Addison elected first president of Players' Association.

Compiled best season's record of all time with 10-3-1 mark, but lost Division title with 24 to 14 defeat by Buffalo in final regular season game before new Boston record crowd of 38,021 in blizzard at Fenway Park.

Gino Cappelletti, who set new scoring record of 155 points that still stands, was named AFL's Most Valuable Player.

Babe Parilli was unanimous selection as All-League quarterback.

1965

Club offices moved from original site at 522 Commonwealth Ave. to 78 Lansdowne St., adjacent to Fenway Park.

Jim Nance is signed out of Syracuse.

Despite first losing season in Holovak regime, Nick Buoniconti sweeps individual honors as unanimous All-league middle linebacker and winner of both Sargent and 1776 Club awards.

1966

Rommie Loudd joins coaching staff as first member of his race to achieve that position in AFL.

David H. McConnell and Robert C. Wetenhall of New York joined list of owners after purchasing interests of Dean Boylan and Dom DiMaggio.

June 8 — Merger with National Football League is announced with Bill Sullivan having served on three-man AFL committee that effected marriage.

Led Eastern Division in quest of first Super Bowl until final weekend of season when upset by Jets in New York.

Set new Boston attendance record of 39,350 for 14 to 3 win over Buffalo.

Holovak named Coach-of-the-Year; Jim Nance the AFL's Most Valuable Player; Babe Parilli Comeback-of-the-Year; and Gino Cappelletti won fifth scoring title.

Mrs. George Sargent became first woman director.

Faced NFL opposition for first time by entertaining Baltimore Colts and Washington Redskins in preseason contests at Harvard Stadium.

Mike Holovak given new five-year contract as general manager and head coach.

Rommie Loudd named Director of Player Personnel, another "first" for his race.

Produced another "first" when first five games were played on road.

Fifth game was scheduled "home" opener played in San Diego (second time in year) when Fenway Park was unavailable because of Red Sox in World Series.

Despite 3-10-1 figures, set record for last-place club by placing seven players on East All-Star squad that edged West at Jacksonville, Fla.

1968

Mrs. George Sargent passed owner's interest to son Lee, a decorated Vietnam veteran.

New Directors elected included Phil David Fine, Charles J. Richardson and Bernard Baldwin. Ed McMann resigned as Director.

Fifth annual Ecumenical Game announced for Labor Day, Sept. 2, at Harvard Stadium with Philadelphia Eagles as opponents.

Announced that scheduled "home" opener with New York Jets will be played Sept. 22 at Birmingham, Ala.

BILL SULLIVAN PATRIOTS PRESIDENT

They said it couldn't be done; they said nobody could do it after three previous dropouts . . . make a pro football team go in Boston, that is.

And so, in 1959, when William H. Sullivan, Jr. of Wellesley announced proudly that he had obtained a franchise for Boston in the fledgling American Football League and would field a team in 1960, he seemed to be the only one in town who thought he could make a go of it.

Now in 1968, the Patriots are still going strong with Bill Sullivan at the helm all the way.

To overcome the early hardships and later obstacles, he called on all the knowledge he gained from his extensive previous background in sports.

That scope included publicist for Frank Leahy's Boston College Sugar Bowl national champions and on to Notre Dame with Leahy as his special secretary. Then came the service in World War II with a term as information officer at the U.S. Naval Academy.

From there, it was to Public Relations Director of the baseball Braves during their pennant-winning and attendance-setting records of the late '40's during which Bill and Jim Britt launched the Jimmy Fund.

To this, Bill added personal qualities of eternal optimism, persistence, salesmanship, vision and never flagging determination.

On the local level, the last eight happy years have seen the Pats become universally accepted as a major league outfit everywhere. In league matters, Bill has figured in every progressive step such as serving two terms as president, the current TV contract with NBC, pensions, expansion and finally the merger with the National Football League.

If anybody is entitled to be Mr. President, it is Bill. He is also President of Metropolitan Petroleum Company and several associated industries.

Yet, he refuses to have even the sign on his office door. That's the kind of guy he is.

Bill still resides in Wellesley with the four children still at home, Kathy, Nancy, Billy, Jr. and Pat. Son Chuck is now Lieut. Charles Sullivan, U.S. Army, and is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. with his wife, the former Barbara Doran of Wellesley. Daughter Jeanne recently became Mrs. Joseph E. McKeigue.

Officers

Dan Marr, Vice President

Colonel Marr has been a football player and fan all his life. He was a stockholder of the Boston Braves and played for the Pere Marquettes — a famed semi-pro football team from South Boston that played in the home of the Patriots— Fenway Park. As John Ahern of the Globe pointed out in an article on Danny—the Colonel doesn't pick losers. His company, Daniel Marr and Sons, is one of the nation's leaders in steel erection. A stalwart member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, Dan makes most of the trips with the club. He once served as commissioner of the New England Football League.

Dan Marr

Paul Sonnabend

Paul Sonnabend, Vice-President

An alumnus of Cornell, Paul is Vice President of the Hotel Corporation of America. A Hotel Manager at 22, Paul has maintained an active interest in sports since his Lacrosse days at Cornell. He has provided strong leadership to many civic activities.

Forrester A. "Tim" Clark, Treasurer

Tim Clark succeeded John Ames as an owner of the Patriots. A Harvard alumnus, Tim still remains in the best of condition. He keeps himself in shape by working on his Hamilton, Mass. farm and by vigorous physical exercise. Tim has enjoyed a great deal of success in his various business ventures which include Clark and White Lincoln Mercury, Wainwright and Company, and the Wildcat Ski Area.

Mike Holovak

HEAD COACH and
GENERAL MANAGER

AFL "Coach of the Year" 1966

The familiar accolade of "Give It to Mike," which has been associated with Mike Holovak around Boston for more than a quarter of a century, took on a new meaning at the close of the 1966 American Football League season when he was awarded a new five-year contract as General Manager and Head Coach of the Patriots.

One reason advanced by the owners for prolonging the pact through 1971 was to give Mike a crack at some National League opposition after the merger becomes fact.

That was great with the now 48-year old Holovak, whose love of competition has been one of his outstanding qualities since he first appeared on the Boston College campus in the fall of 1939 as the proverbial "poor boy" from Lansford, Pa.

Honors heaped on him as an undergraduate. He was a 60-minute fullback as a sophomore on Frank Leahy's undefeated squad that won the 1940 National championship by beating Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl.

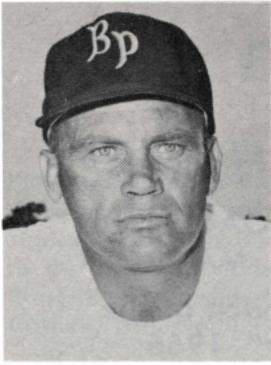

Moving along as the late Denny Myers replaced Leahy, Mike became All-American as a senior while serving as co-captain with Freddy Naumetz of the team that ran roughshod over all opposition until stopped in the amazing 55 to 12 upset by Holy Cross. Mike set an Orange Bowl record with three touchdowns later.

Graduated in early 1943 on the accelerated program, he served with distinction in the Navy PT-boats in the Pacific.

Following World War II, he received his pro football indoctrination by playing one year with the Los Angeles Rams and two seasons with the Chicago Bears.

He then returned to his Alma Mater, first as freshman coach and then a record nine-year tenure as varsity tutor during which he compiled a 49-29-3 record.

He was the first executive signed by the Pats as Player Personnel Director in Dec. 1959. He succeeded Lou Saban as Head Coach on Oct. 10, 1961 and has a 48-36-9 AFL career record.

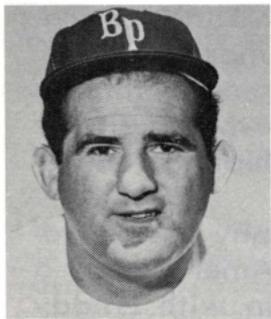

ART SPINNEY
Offensive Line Coach

Art Spinney came home to the scene of his early football triumphs to take over as offensive line coach of the Patriots starting with the 1962 season.

The former B.C. end was twice named All-Pro offensive guard in the NFL as one of John Unitas' "protectors". One of the highlights of his play with the Baltimore Colts was a key role in his team's win over the N.Y. Giants in the famed sudden death championship game in 1958.

After serving as an assistant coach at Boston College in 1961, Art joined the Pats and molded their offensive line into one of the league's best.

Art, his wife Mary and their six children, Laura 12, Stephen 10, John 9, Craig 7, Michael 5 and Neal 3, live in Saugus.

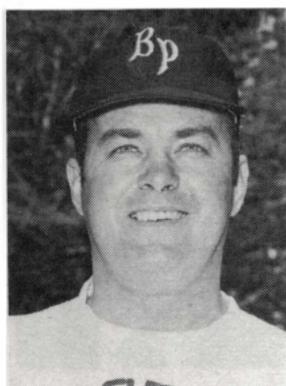

JESSE RICHARDSON
Defensive Line Coach

Big Jess has coached the defensive line since 1964 and his foursome has led the league in rushing defense more than any unit in the league. Previous to that he played for the Patriots for three years.

An All-Pro selection in the NFL in '59 and '60, Jesse was one of the main reasons the Eagles won the championship in the latter year . . . He was the last pro in either league to play without a face mask, engendering more enthusiasm on the playing field than the most eager rookie.

This articulate hardnose will have a few reunions in 1968. The Pats face his old Eagles on Labor Day and then journey to Alabama (vs. Jets) where Jesse schooled at the state's University.

He, his wife Dorothy, and their two children, Claire 9 and Jessica 4, live in Marblehead, Mass.

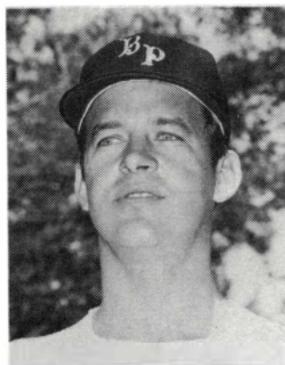

TOM YEWIC
Offensive Backfield Coach

Tom took over as the Pats' offensive coaching aide last year and works primarily with quarterbacks and receivers. He was the backup man for Babe Parilli for six seasons and was also the team's punter for the same period.

He moved into a starting role in 1962 after Babe was injured and led the Pats to three straight wins. This was accomplished under the pressure of a dramatic late-season division race. Before joining the pros, Tom led Michigan State's 1954 Rose Bowl team and then graduated into baseball as a catcher for the Detroit Tigers.

During the game Tom is active on the phones as the Pats' offense unfolds.

CLAUDE GIBSON
Defensive Backfield Coach

"Hoot" is a former American Football League defensive back and North Carolina State defensive backfield coach who will now handle the Pats' secondary.

He comes to the Patriots from North Carolina State following one of his school's finest seasons in history. His defensive backfield was cited by head coach Earl Edwards for its major contribution to a sparkling 8-2 season's record and a win over Georgia in the Liberty Bowl.

The new Patriots' aide also has had six years of playing and scouting experience in the AFL. He played for five years with the San Diego Chargers and Oakland Raiders as a defensive back and punt return specialist. His first two years were spent under Sid Gillman at San Diego and from 1963 to 1965, Gibson played for Al Davis and the Raiders. After completing his playing career he continued to scout for the Raiders' organization.

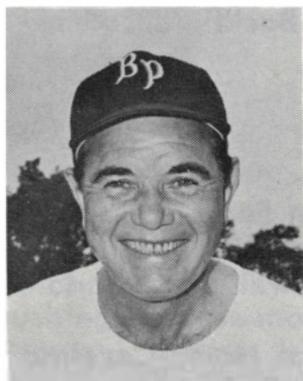

ROMMIE LOUDD
Director of Player Personnel

Rommie Loudd joined the Patriot coaching staff in 1966 after a distinguished playing career. Loudd won gridiron fame at UCLA, being chosen as an All-American. He continued to receive honors despite the big step up to the pros, making the AFL All-Star team as a linebacker in 1960, when he was a member of the San Diego Chargers. Loudd was a starting linebacker with the Pats in the 1961 and 1962 campaigns.

Loudd, the first Negro executive in the AFL, has served as representative for the Continental Baking Company.

In 1967 Rommie was named the Director of Player Personnel and thus transfers his knowledge of the game from the field to the front office where he coordinates the Pats' talent hunt.

Rommie, his wife Betty and their children, Rommie, Jr. 11 and Cheryl Lynn 9, live in Taunton, Mass.

ED McKEEVER
Scout

A native of Texas, Ed starred as a quarterback in his undergraduate days at Texas Tech. Since joining the Patriots nine years ago, he was honored as Texas Tech's outstanding athlete of the past 25 years.

He entered the coaching profession and made his first appearance in Boston simultaneously, serving as backfield coach under Frank Leahy with the Boston College Cotton Bowl and Sugar Bowl teams of 1939 and 1940.

He entered the professional ranks for the first time in 1948 as both general manager and head coach of the Chicago Rockets. He served as General Manager the first four years of the Patriots.

BOB HOOBING
Executive Assistant

Bob is the newest member of the Patriots family and has taken on a special appointment as Executive Assistant to Pats' President Bill Sullivan. He will assist the Patriots President in his rapidly increasing duties in connection with the league and the team on the executive front. He also assumes responsibility as supervisor of the day to day office operation.

Bob has spent 16 years writing sports, was with the Associated Press as New England Sports Editor and before taking this new assignment was Sports Editor of the Boston Herald. He is a graduate of Yale University. He was named by the ECAC as Sportswriter of the Year in 1962 and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He and his wife Charlotte live in Lexington with three of their children. Another son is now serving with the U.S. Marines.

WILLIAM FINUCANE
General Counsel

Bill Finucane has served as counsel to the club since its inception.

He has probably prepared more contracts over the past eight years than many lawyers will handle in a lifetime. For example, in the first year of the Patriots' existence approximately 300 players passed through the mill including those at the tryout camp and at the regular training session at the University of Massachusetts. All had to be protected either with the standard player contract once they actually signed, or with a provisional document during the try-out periods.

GERRY MOORE
Director of Public Relations

After more than a quarter-century as a Boston sports writer, Gerry became one of the original Patriots when the club was launched in 1960 and now is the senior incumbent among those holding the position throughout the A.F.L.

A graduate of Boston Latin and Boston College where he was captain of the golf team and hockey goal-tender, Moore started his journalistic career as a student correspondent for the Herald.

He joined the Herald staff upon graduation, did a hitch with the Transcript and then spent 12 years with the Globe before entering the Navy.

Upon separation as a Communications Lt.-Commander, he spent a year as tournament supervisor of the touring golf pros.

He returned to Boston in 1947 to become a member of the Post sports staff and remained there until that paper floundered in 1956, whereupon he became administrative assistant to the then Lieutenant-Governor Robert F. Murphy.

JACK NICHOLSON
Publicity Director

Jack is entering his third year in the Patriots' front office and along with Gerry Moore handles the club's publicity, promotion and public relations activities. Among his primary assignments are the handling of team information, news releases, publications, advancing the team on the road and supervising the press box operation.

Before joining the Pats, Jack was affiliated with a Worcester bank and at the same time wrote a weekly pro football column.

He is a veteran of the U.S. Navy and a graduate of Clark University. Jack lives in Holden with his wife Jean and their three children.

JOHN FITZGERALD
Ticket Manager

John is a native of Everett and first developed his interest in football as a varsity guard for Denny Gildea on the Everett High team. Bobby Leo and Ron Persuitte of subsequent Everett teams are now on the Pats' roster.

After six years in the Navy during the second World War, Fitz joined United Air Lines and eventually became manager of United's Boston office. In 1960 he joined the Pats as ticket manager to become the first person hired by the club.

Fitz and his wife, the former Margaret Healey of Arlington, now live in Swampscott. They have six children: Mark 17, Kevin 16, Terry 14, Julie 12, Rose Marie 9 and Brian 6.

GERRY O'BRIEN
Assistant Ticket Manager

Gerry joined the Patriots as assistant to John Fitzgerald in early 1967 and has brought a good combination of English wit and Irish spirit into the fold with him. A graduate of Ireland's Marist College, he played soccer in London and Gaelic football in Ireland. During his spare time, Gerry assists the Boston Beacons with tickets and other phases of the game he knows so well. Gerry and his wife Lena live in Lynn with their five children, Maura 18, Geraldine 15, Lawrence 11, Joseph 9 and Kerry 6.

DR. JOSEPH DORGAN
Team Surgeon

Dr. Joe was born in Lawrence, educated in Lowell, and now lives in Belmont . . . has been with the Pats since the beginning . . . performed disc operation on Ron Burton in 1963 and Ron played 3 months later, a record in pro sports . . . a graduate of Holy Cross (Class of 1941), Joe also attended Tufts Medical where he now teaches.

He is a member of the staffs of Boston City Hospital, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, and Cambridge City Hospital . . . He is Chief of Orthopedic Surgery at the Malden City Hospital . . . Joe and his wife Mary have three children, Joannie 23, Barbara 20, and Mary Anne 17 . . . The Patriots feel fortunate in having one of the area's foremost surgeons on their team.

DR. BURTON A. NAULT
Associate Physician

Burton A. Nault, M.D., is a native of Concord, N.H. where he practices General Surgery. Graduate of Bowdoin College where he played football under Adam Walsh. Graduated from Cornell Medical College, and trained in surgery at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, Mass.

Burt has been an Associate Physician with the Boston Patriots for eight years now. He is an active participant in hockey, tennis, golf and badminton. At last report he was still a bachelor.

WILLIAM T. BATES
Trainer

The articulate Mr. Bates joined the Pats as trainer in June of 1961. After serving in the Korean War, he returned to civilian life and received his degree in Physical Therapy at the University of Pennsylvania. He started assisting in the training room at Penn and eventually became visiting trainer for the Philadelphia Eagles. He also did some color broadcasting on the Philadelphia 76ers radio network.

A highlight of Bill's career came this year when he opened a Physical Therapy clinic in Boston. Many of the top athletes in pro sports are among his patients.

RALPH DELLO RUSSO
Equipment Manager

This year marks Ralph's ninth as equipment manager of the Patriots. He served in the same position at Boston College for 17 years prior to coming with the Pats.

He met Mike Holovak when the current Pats' Head Coach and General Manager became freshman coach of the Eagles and the two have been together for much of Ralph's 25 years suiting and padding football players.

PETER C. SIRAGUSA
Entertainment Director

Ever since the spectacular pre-game and half-time presentations that went with the Patriots' triumph over the champion Oilers in the Harvard Stadium, people have been asking who organized the musical end of that program.

The answer is 40-year-old Peter Siragusa, a native of Belmont, who now resides in Brighton with his wife, the former Gloria Assanti of Arlington, and their five children, Francis 17, Stephanie 15, Peter Jr. 12, Mark 11, and Gloria 9.

He is the same fellow who arranges the half-time entertainment at all Patriots' home games.

In addition to serving as Director of Entertainment for the Pats, Peter is Director of the Boston College and Boston Fire Department bands and was just honored by being selected as Supervisor of Music for the Boston School Department.

JOHN BIRCH
"Aide de Camp"

An invaluable aide and the all-around man of the Patriots, John has lent a hand to one and all as the Pats rapid front office growth has kept pace with that of the team's and league's. John was the first to buy a Patriots season ticket and soon after joined Pats' ticket boss John Fitzgerald as an assistant. He has also worked with publicity and promotions and assists equipment manager Ralph Dello Russo on game day.

DICK RAPHAEL
Patriots Photographer

Resident of Marblehead . . . graduate of Boston University . . . handles Pats game action and posed player photos . . . much of his material is used by national magazines and television. He recently was appointed to staff of Sports Illustrated.

Patriots' Pre-Season Prospectus

By JACK NICHOLSON, Publicity Director

The Boston Patriots are shooting for an American Football League championship in 1968. This may seem like an overly optimistic goal for a team that finished last in the Eastern Division in 1967.

But as Head Coach and General Manager Mike Holovak said when the '67 season ended, "We are definitely not a last place club and when next Fall rolls around, we'll prove it."

Last season was the first cellar finish in all of Mike Holovak's years as a pro coach. He aims for it to be his last.

An expanded scouting program and unusual good fortune in "getting the men we wanted" have given the Patriots their best draft ever. Speed has been the primary acquisition but a couple of big, blue chip linemen have also been selected.

Two veteran lines will lead the way up front and two modern day pro football super stars, Jim Nance and Nick Buoniconti, will spearhead the offense and defense, respectively.

A review of the personnel shows substantial cause for optimism. The 1966 squad that came within one-half game and a final weekend upset loss of an Eastern Division championship placed 11 All Stars. Last year's squad was represented by seven All Stars—a league record for a last-place club.

Will Holovak's men force history to repeat itself in 1968? The only other time in the past seven years that the Boston pros finished with a losing record (4-8-2 in 1965) they bounced back with what was probably the strongest and most exciting showing in their history (8-4-2 in 1966).

That same dramatic resurgence included a performance by quarterback Babe Parilli that won him the AFL's Comeback of the Year Award.

Parilli will be the man on the spot again in 1968. "He's my quarterback . . . he's one of the best in the business," said Mike Holovak. "New York has a great one in Namath, but after him who is better than Babe? We have a great runner in Jim Nance—a great one. But we have to break him through there."

"This will also help Babe," Holovak went on. "People never appreciated how good this man really is. I want to win this thing and he's the one guy who can do it for us right now.

"Just a little more speed and a couple of changes at the right spots and we've got it all. We can't give the ball away as much as last year; that's for sure. So that leaves just one goal ahead. We want to be the first American Football League team to win that Super Bowl and by gosh, we'll do everything we can to make it."

These were the words of a winner, and the Boston Patriots have been that most of the time. Prior to 1967, the Pats only once in six years under Mike Holovak had failed to be in the running for the title going into the final weekend of the season.

Parilli is still the man around whom Boston's strongest possible contender must be built to win now. The Babe, backed up by Don Trull, has shown he can call the big play and throw the bomb. He knows the winning system. Now, with the proper supporting cast, he seeks that one more solid shot.

Holovak feels that the only real measure of Trull is to have him through a full pre-season training. Don joined the Pats during the '67 season.

The current talent could be the Pats' best ever. Even in previously weak areas, the improvement has been noticeable.

The defensive backfield received the biggest boost from new strength in 1967 when two rookie cornerbacks John Charles and Leroy Mitchell, were starters throughout the season. When the campaign began Holovak said of them, "they'll be beaten once in awhile because of inexperience—but they're the best we have so we'll go with them all the way." Much more often than not, 1966's AFL Coach Of The Year was not disappointed. "They're going to be great ones," he said recently as he looked ahead to 1968.

Along with Charles and Mitchell, another new strength was found—this time in a veteran. Cornerback Don Webb, the team's fastest defender, was converted to free safety during the season with telling success. Webb was voted Unsung Player of the Year by the team's booster club and ranked among the top five vote getters in the Boston players' M.V.P. poll.

With the retirement of Chuck Shonta and the drafting of Ron Hall and White Graves by the fledgling Cincinnati Bengals, a new man is likely to be found at the strong safety position. Top veteran on the spot is former Nebraska rover back Billy Johnson, who the Boston coaches say, "loves to tackle and, pound for pound, is one of the best hitters playing in the league."

Rookie draftee Jim Smithberger of Notre Dame, 6-2, 200, was the top defensive back selected by the Pats this year and has been recommended as a "probable immediate starter." Draftee Art McMahon is another strong safety hopeful. Two other draft choices, Daryl Johnson of Morgan State and John Outlaw of Jackson State, are the fastest men ever to wear the Red, White and Blue. They will join three-year vet Jay Cunningham in competition at the cornerback and free safety positions.

Perennial All-League middle linebacker Nick Buoni-conti continues to dominate his position. Many say he has more mobility than any linebacker in pro football. Buoniconti, an insatiable competitor, admits, "I didn't do as well as I would have liked to last season—but I'll tell you this . . . I'm going to make up for it." Discounting the strictness of his own standards, the fiery Springfield, Mass. native was still named All-AFL.

Buoniconti drew solid early support from two new starters at his side last year. A former All-Mid-American Conference defensive tackle with speed, 6-3, 240-pound Ed Philpott, moved in as a rookie to replace injured co-captain Tom Addison early in the year. Impressive because of the quickness he has for his size, Philpott never relinquished the job and in one late season game was selected the afternoon's top defender.

Doug Satcher clinched the other starting linebacker berth in pre-season camp. He took over on the right side after having the equivalent of only one full game of playing time in his 1966 rookie year. One Eastern Division head coach called Satch "the best Boston's ever had at that spot."

Co-captain Addison, many times an All-Star and with seven solid years behind him, could still be a factor if he does not retire. One of the main reasons for Philpott's quick success as a rookie was, as he himself put it, "the way Tom (Addison) has helped me to learn the job . . . telling me things about certain runners and linemen . . . he really made a lot of difference."

Another of last year's good rookies was Ray Ilg. He replaced the injured Buoniconti in the season's opening game at Denver and turned in an admirable job. The former Colgate captain is the team's best young swing linebacker.

Among the top rookie linebacker prospects are . . . 6-2, 225 pound Jim Cheyunski of Syracuse's nationally second ranked defense, 6-2, 230 pound Ed Koontz of Catawba, former Canadian pro Burl "Boom Boom" Wood, 6-2, 232, of West Texas St., Little All-America Dave Ragusa of Rochester and returnee Jim Louder of Xavier.

The fact that the Pats' top draft choice this year is a big All-American defensive lineman reflects the importance that Mike Holovak attaches to an unbeatable front four and an overpowering pass rush.

Dennis Byrd of North Carolina State, 6-4, 260, is the rookie in question and was Boston's only defensive line selection. Byrd's task is to try to break into a defensive line that has played together longer than any other in pro football.

Bob Dee, Jim "Earthquake" Hunt, Houston Antwine and Larry Eisenhower have all been All-AFL selections. They've allowed less yardage by enemy runners and put more quarterbacks on the sidelines than any foursome in the circuit. Although they are the senior unit of the league, they have the advantage of exceptional talent and an early start. Only Dee is over 30 and he is the iron man of the defense, having never missed a game in his eight years as a Patriot.

A team with a losing record usually has more difficulty placing its men, however deserving, on the All-AFL team. But the reputations and performances of Jim Hunt and Houston Antwine broke through the image of a disappointing '67 season with distinction. The Los Angeles Rams' Merlin Olsen and Roger Brown were the only other defensive tackle tandem to make it into pro football's 1968 All-Star games.

The "Wild Man" of the Patriots' defensive line, Larry Eisenhauer, will be coming back from a knee injury that sidelined him in the team's ninth regular season game. His importance as a rushliner was emphasized by what followed as the Pats failed to win without him. Ike is counting on "my best year ever" in 1968.

Jumbo John Mangum, who has been strong against the run, second-year men Ed Toner, Tommy Fussell and Mel Witt, and free agents Ron Persuitte of Boston College and 6-6 ex-Marine John Breiten will add to the competition in the grid trenches.

Boston's version of "The Forgotten Men"—the offensive linemen—have excelled in one category. They have led the way up the middle and off the tackles for pro football's king of the rushers, the undefeated heavyweight champion of ground gainers in 1966 and 1967, Jim "Big Bo" Nance.

Clearing Nance's path have been the men up front like center Jon Morris, guards Charlie Long and Len St. Jean and tackles Tommy Neville and the "quiet man," Don Oakes. Nance will tell you at the drop of a helmet, "Those guys have moved a lot of people out of the way for me but they're too easily overlooked after a game is over . . . as far as I'm concerned, those guys are the greatest." The big All-League fullback concluded recently, "I think they'll get the credit they deserve this year—because we're going to win it."

Morris has been the only center in the AFL to crack the All League domination of Jim Otto (Associated Press team—1966) and he'll have another shot at it this fall. Rated the best in the game at the cut-off block and, at 6-4, 255, a tough one in taking on big defensive tackles, Morris has been voted the East's top center in every one of his pro years.

Several AFL head coaches consider St. Jean and Co-captain Long the most underrated pair of guards in the loop. Only the champion Oakland Raiders' Wayne Hawkins and Gene Upshaw were rated as highly as a tandem in the voting of the players.

Neville, the biggest of the movers at 6-4, 260, graded out with the highest scores of the year in several of last season's games but, the big Alabamian says, "I've got to do that well all the time next season—not just once in awhile."

Veteran Oakes was a starting Eastern All Star team tackle this past January and his selection gave the Pats' offensive line the record-setting distinction of having all of its starters named to the All Star team at least once.

Backing up the first five are tackle Karl Singer, a number one draft choice in 1965, and powerful guard and kickoff specialist Justin Canale, considered by many the best third guard in the AFL.

Boston's second draft choice, Jackson State giant Tommy Funches, joins the offensive line competition and may become a starter immediately. The 6-5, 260 pound Little All-America just happened to be the fastest big lineman in college football last year and could become the fastest in the pro game. He moves his size over the 40 yard distance in 4.7 seconds. Another big rookie blocker with exceptional speed is 260 pound Max Huber of Brigham Young, whose 4.9 seconds for 40 yards is above average.

Eleventh draft choice Paul Feldhauser, a 6-6, 270 pounder from Northland College, and former New York Jet Mitch Dudek will also be heard from.

The receivers are coming in for much attention as the Pats' coaching staff prepares for the '68 campaign.

Split end Art Graham, considered one of the team's top athletes, said after the end of last season, "I wouldn't mind being the league's best all-around receiver either." The funny thing is, he could be. A recent survey of AFL scouts by a national sports magazine declared the former Boston College All-American just behind Buffalo's Art Powell as the league's best split end. Graham is a long bomb threat and caught the AFL's longest in '67, a 79-yarder.

Tight end Jim Whalen caught three touchdown passes in a game against Miami last season to tie a team record. He also had the best production of any Boston tight end ever and his 651 yards topped all Pats.

Flanker Gino Cappelletti returns as the clutch performer of the squad in his dual role as pass catcher and placekicking expert. He needs 51 points to join the Cleveland Browns' Lou Groza as the only players in pro football history to score as many as 1000 points in their careers.

Gino will be contested at flanker by veteran Larry Garron, who has been switched from running back. Larry will be joined by former K.C. Chiefs end Jerry Lamb and another free agent, Hoftra's Fred Grasso, in the flanker race.

A top candidate for the starting job at split end is third draft choice Aaron Marsh, a 9.7 sprinter from Eastern Kentucky. Marsh has been tabbed "a sure-fire bet for the big play in the pros."

Veteran Jim Colclough, 13th draft pick Henry McKay of Guilford College and free agent Fred Grasso of Hofstra will join the split end race. Second-year man Bobby Nichols, Boston University's former captain and leading pass catcher, will back up Whalen at tight end.

Two rookies who broke most of their school and league pass receiving records, Henry "Mr. Hands" McKay of Guilford and Bill Murphy of Cornell, complete the very competitive split end contingent. Pro soph Bobby Nichols, a former B.U. captain, and two 6-3, 230 pound rookies, Bob Tucker of Bloomsburg, (Pa.) and Jerry MacDonald of Angelo St. (Tex.) round it out at tight end.

The bull of the Boston setbacks, All League full-back Jim Nance, will set his sights on a third successive pro football rushing title in '68. He will have two Boston-born power runners, 235 pound veteran Bob Cappadona and rookie Preston Johnson of Florida A&M, to back him up.

The other half of the Patriots' running game is more of a question mark. The Patriots' fourth draft choice, 6-3, 220 pound halfback R. C. Gamble of South Carolina State, could become a starter right away. Another rookie speedster, Willie Porter of Texas Southern, could give Gamble a run. No one is counting out Bobby Leo, the ex-Harvard phenom who moves to halfback after an exceptional late season debut in '67. A fourth prospect is 220 pound Gene Thomas, a big sprinter with a 4.5 clocking for 40 yards. He was obtained from the K.C. Chiefs in June.

An effective outside running attack will make Jim Nance twice as dangerous.

A vital area, that of returning punts and kickoffs, should be much improved under the new Patriots' game plan of 1968. Speedy rookies like Aaron Marsh, John Outlaw, Daryl Johnson and Willie Porter are qualified to go all the way. They are the game-breakers. Holdovers Bobby Leo and Billy Johnson also got their chances in this department late last season and showed they too could do the job. Jay Cunningham is another with the speed and break-away potential to be in the thick of unprecedented competition.

A good rookie punter was discovered last year when Terry Swanson won a tryout after competing in an open punters tryout camp and making a solid impression.

Mike Holovak's master plan is for another well designed comeback. Only this time the hope is that it will not fall one weekend short as it did in 1966.

Boston Patriots

1776 Club

This is a great group of boosters who have loyally backed the Patriots since the Club was founded by Natick's John Gildea in 1962. He was eventually joined in his efforts by other supporters, most of whom can still be found on the Officers' and Directors' rosters.

At the start of each training season, the 1776 Club sponsors a Family Day Barbecue at the Andover training camp. At this time, the coaches introduce the new players to the fans. Various contests are run off, consisting of running, passing and kicking and even a special scrimmage is often possible.

The Club also puts on splendid dinners and evenings of entertainment which kickoff the regular home season in September and cap the season's conclusion in January. Quarterback luncheons throughout the season are held, featuring football films and guesting players and officials from the team.

Highlights of last season's fine support by the 1776ers included a post-season dinner in which a near-capacity audience paid tribute to the Pats and some of their individual stars of 1967. Honored were Jim Nance (Player-of-the-Year), Don Webb (Unsung Player-of-the-Year), Ed Philpott (Rookie-of-the-Year) and Tom Addison (winner of the George L. Sargent Memorial Award).

Annual dues are $5 and any one may join merely by writing to Pres. Herb Bortman, P.O. Box 1776, Kenmore Square, Boston.

Directors: Robert Bell, Raymond Elliott, Robert Griffin, Leonard Potenza, Gregory Flynn, Frank Kelley, Richard Gildea, Norman Cohen.

South Shore Quarterback Club

Born on a street corner but thriving.

That's the story of the South Shore Quarterback Club.

Four Patriots die-hards, Frank Burns of Dorchester, Mike Kuznitz of Mattapan, Wally McIsaac of East Weymouth and George Canavan of Hingham all were bemoaning the fate of the Pats at the hands of the Jets, one cold December afternoon in 1966. The Jets had just knocked their beloved Pats out of title contention in the Eastern Division of the AFL.

Someone suggested, "Let's see how many other nuts there are and see if we can form a club and keep interest alive until next season."

Coral Gables was secured as a meeting place and a call went forth for members. 26 showed up at the first organizational meeting the next week and the club was on its way.

The club has met regularly once a month since and outstanding speakers from all sides of pro football addressed the members, now 140 strong.

Bill Sullivan, Rommie Loudd, Gerry Moore, Bob Hoobing, Bob Dee, Tom Addison, Bobby Leo, Weeb Ewbank, Tom O'Connor (NFL scout), George McGuane (retired AFL official), Ken Coleman, Art Spinney and Jack Horrigan (Bills public relations man) represent a partial list of the speakers.

Members pay $5.00 a year dues and get a monthly eight-page newsletter keeping them up to date on happenings.

Anyone can join by contacting Mike Kuznitz c/o P.O. Box 43, Milton Village Branch, Boston, Mass. 02187.

THE SARGENT MEMORIAL TROPHY

The death of George L. Sargent on April 10, 1962 came as a stunning blow to his many friends and admirers.

The Vice President and an original owner of the Patriots, he was an outstanding member of a solid University of Virginia eleven.

A group of his closest friends established a Memorial Plaque in his name for the Patriots' player who best typified the qualities of the late owner and selected by the squad.

This is a most fitting tribute to the late Vice-President of the Patriots, who was described by President Bill Sullivan, as "The Greatest Patriot of Them All."

The Sargent Memorial Trophy Winners

1962	Babe Parilli
1963	Larry Garron
1964	Gino Cappelletti
1965	Nick Buoniconti
1966	Jim Nance
1967	Tom Addison

PATRIOTS BASKETBALL TEAM

The Patriots' Basketball Team enjoyed its fifth straight successful season, winding up its off-season barnstorming tour of New England with a 21-5 record.

Among the many charities for which the hoop team performed were Muscular Dystrophy, the Maurice Stokes fund, Friends for the Philippines and several local foundations.

The concluding contest was held at the Mass. Correctional Institution at Bridgewater for which the athletes each received a warm testimonial from Superintendent Charles Gaughan.

H.P. Hood and Sons once again sponsored the team under the leadership of Tom Feenan, director of Hood's Physical Fitness Program.

Artie Graham repeated as leading scorer with a 26.8 average although he had more companions in double figures than ever before. Among these sharpshooters were Babe Parilli, Charley Long, Larry Garron, Len St. Jean, Jon Morris, Nick Buoniconti, Jimmy Colclough and Joe Bellino. Jim Whalen, Jay Cunningham, Ed Philpott and Billy Johnson all made their debuts with the hoopmen. Larry Eisenhower sat this season out while Offensive Backfield Coach Tom Yewcic confined most of his activity to coaching.

Any organization wishing to challenge the Pats may phone Gerry Moore at 262-6363.

WBZ-TV CHANNEL 4 — BOSTON

Much of the American Football League's championship season action will be televised in color again this year by NBC. The first nationally televised Sunday afternoon game will feature a battle between the Patriots and their division rivals, the Buffalo Bills. The rest of the schedule is still tentative but most likely all Patriots road games will be televised back to Boston through the facilities of WBZ-TV, Channel 4. Joining the NBC-TV teams last year was former SMU and New York Giant great Kyle Rote. Leading the popular group of NBC Play-By-Play and Color men are Wellesley's Curt Gowdy, George Ratterman, Charlie Jones, Jim Simpson and Elmer Angsman. Game producers will be Lou Kusserow, Don Ellis, Roy Hammerman and Joe Gallagher.

THE PATS ON RADIO . . .

BOB STARR and GIL SANTOS

James Robert ("Bob") Starr was named in 1966 to do the play-by-play of the Boston Patriots pro football games on WBZ Radio (1030).

Before coming to Boston Bob was a Midwest broadcast sports reporter and football and basketball play-by-play announcer. During that time he called more than 60 games a year, including the schedules of Bradley University, Illinois State University, and Illinois Wesleyan University. He came to the Group W stations from WMBD Radio-TV, Peoria, Illinois, where he had been a sports broadcaster.

Born in Oklahoma, the 35-year-old Starr attended the University of Kansas and Western Illinois University. He played varsity football, basketball and baseball in high school and college. He began his broadcasting career in May, 1956, at KXGI, Ft. Madison, Iowa.

Bob is fast gaining the reputation of one of the best of pro football's play-by-play men.

Gilbert A. ("Gil") Santos teams up with Starr as color announcer for the Pats' radio broadcasts. His specialty is bringing game sidelights into the action.

A resident of New Bedford where he is continuing as Sports Director of WNBH, Gil is a graduate of the New England School for Radio and TV Broadcasting.

In addition to filling in on the color, Gil interviews a special guest during the halftime of each pre-season and regular season game.

Bob Starr and Gil Santos are looking forward to broadcasting a championship season to Pats fans throughout New England in 1968.

JOHN GILLOOLY MEMORIAL AWARD

The Patriots' directors voted by acclamation to establish an annual award in memory of the late John Gillooly, prize winning columnist of the Record-American, who died suddenly May 17.

The trophy will take the form of a silver tricorn, the hat John often wrote about wearing when starting out to cover a Patriots' game.

It will be voted by the sports writers and sportscasters of New England to one of their own members who best exemplifies the qualities extolled in the many eulogies written and spoken about John — humor, desire to help the underdog, constructive writing and devotion to all New England teams and personalities.

The award will be made each year on May 17 at a breakfast following an Anniversary Mass for John.

IN MEMORIAM

The Patriots lost two valued friends and the writing fraternity two of its most talented members during the off-season by the passing of John Gillooly, prize-winning columnist of the Record-American, and Frank Sargent, sports editor and columnist of the Lowell Sun.

THE LOWELL GIANTS

The Patriots have inaugurated a unique and practical working agreement with the Lowell Giants of the Atlantic Coast Football League which the Pats hope will continue in operation for a long time.

Under one innovation, the Pats name the Lowell coaches and Mike Holovak selected ex-Pat Ross O'Hanley as the head tutor of the farm club which last year worked with the Green Bay Packers.

Another new arrangement will see the members of the Patriots' taxi squad playing regular weekend league games with the Giants although they will continue to practice with the Pats during daily drills throughout the week.

Charley Theokas, who once was a center candidate with the parent club, will continue as general manager of the Lowell operation while President Bob Hotin heads the list of Lowell businessmen backing the club, which will wear uniforms similar to those worn by the Pats.

PRESS BOX PERSONNEL

Vin Maloney, veteran Boston newscaster, handles the microphone as Public Address Announcer. He is assisted in spotting the action by Charlie Lowe of Weymouth and Jimmy Kane, former B.C. quarterback. George McGuane of Lowell operates the official stadium clock.

The man with all of the right figures is chief statistician Jack Dwyer of Lexington. He supervises a capable six man staff in the accumulation of names, plays, yardage and tackles. Full sets of statistics are delivered to each team's locker room after the game. The cheerful Tommy McCarthy serves as press box steward and is assisted by Joe Gildea.

Jack Shea of Hingham, Gerry Donnelly of Worcester, Matty Byrne of Milton, Steve McCafferty of Belmont and Rich Statsky of South Boston are on hand in the press box operation.

PRESS RADIO AND TV INFORMATION

Please direct inquiries on TV matters, the Patriots' program, special events and promotions and general public relations matters to Gerry Moore (office 262-6363; home 862-5666).

Requests for press box space, photographer and parking credentials, statistics, photographs, feature and team information should go to Jack Nicholson (office 262-6363; home 1-829-5654).

It will be appreciated if all press, photo and parking requests reach the Patriots' office by Wednesday of game weeks.

1968 Patriots' Veterans

Houston Antwine DT 29 6' 270 So. Illinois

The toughest interior lineman in the league against the run . . . most always double-teamed by blockers . . . extremely strong . . . "quickest and most underrated tackle I've ever seen," said San Diego coach Sid Gillman . . . was Eastern All-Star for fifth straight year in '67 . . . has been All-League three times . . . in '66 led all defensive tackles in AFL in votes of other players . . . "he's almost impossible to move out of the middle—no matter what they throw at him," says teammate Buoniconti, "and it's a big help to me in that I can get a quicker start and move around more" . . . plugging up Boston's defensive middle is "Twine's" strong suit . . . Weeb Ewbank of the Jets regards him as the "best in the league" . . . Buffalo All-Pro Guard Billy Shaw has rated him the AFL's toughest tackle . . . smiling "Twine" is one of the most popular Pats . . . NAIA wrestling champion at Southern Illinois . . . has been a league All Star since he went from offense to defense . . . a leader-type and one of the most respected of the Pats . . . sells insurance for Phoenix Mutual . . . "and his best customers should be quarterbacks," added linemate Bob Dee.

Nick Buoniconti LB 27 5'11" 220 Notre Dame

All League middle linebacker for the fifth straight year . . . in 1966 led all AFL players in number of votes received as the best at any position . . . played several games with a cracked rib and came in third in league's MVP voting . . . Chiefs QB Len Dawson says "if you're lucky enough to knock him down, you have to lay on him or he'll get right back into the play" . . . Namath says "he's too great . . . first he's coming in at you and the next time he's right on top of your receiver . . . he covers so much ground" . . . San Diego players call him "The King" . . . leads all Pats in intercepted passes and tackles . . . Mike Garrett admits, "Buoniconti has a picnic with me" . . . considered by many the best middle linebacker in all of pro ball . . . Keith Lincoln, now of Bills, calls him "All-World" . . . has a terrific "nose" for the ball, moves well laterally, and is a crunching tackler . . . pride of Western Mass., Nick is a native of Springfield . . . was captain and All-American at Notre Dame . . . led Irish in tackles in his senior year and starred in post season All-Star games . . . was Patriots MVP for 1965, wtnning George Sargent Memorial Trophy . . . Jets defensive coach Walt Michaels, himself an NFL All-Pro, thinks Nick is tops, likes to compare him with NFL great Joe Schmidt . . . graduated from Suffolk Law School in Boston this past off-season.

Justin Cancle G 24 6'2" 255 Miss. State

One of the strongest linemen in pro football . . . "probably the best third guard in the league," says Babe Parilli, "and I know some teams would like him as a starter" . . . "never saw anyone fire out and hit so hard with that first move on the snap," says fellow guard Charley Long . . . "strongest leg in the league," says Coach Holovak of Justin's kicking off prowess . . . no one gets them into and out of the end zone more consistently . . . boomed a 61 yard field goal in '67 pre-season . . . minor injuries may have slowed his progress . . . had several 50-yard field goals in college and a 49 yarder against Jets in '65 pre-season game . . . being groomed for long distance field goal booting . . . also a backup center . . . was a strong defensive player in college . . . could step in as a starter whenever needed . . . one of six football playing brothers in Tennessee and Mississippi . . . off-field gentleness and humility belies his extreme aggressiveness during game action.

Bob Cappadona FB 25 6'1" 230 Northeastern

Backup man to Jim Nance . . . when with "Bo" gives Pats "Baby Bull" backfield . . . spent six months in service this year . . . had an even 100 yards on ground last season while seeing limited service . . . was tabbed squad's top rookie in '66 when he averaged four yards a carry . . . scored his first pro TD against Houston that year . . . used effectively as a pass catcher . . . undefeated heavyweight boxer as freshman at Notre Dame . . . gives Pats championship boxer/wrestler tandem at fullback . . . one of the Pats' top red-shirt draft choices to sign in '65 . . . inked Pats' pact despite enthusiastic bidding of 49ers and Winnipeg Blue Bombers . . . high school All-American, is native of Watertown, Mass. . . . broke most of the Northeastern rushing records . . . one of the leading runners in New England College football history . . . carried for over 2000 yards . . . was Northeastern's captain . . . Bob's coach, Joe Zabilski, called him "best worker, best blocker, best runner and best leader I ever coached." . . . most prized honor was 1963 Swede Nelson Award for sportsmanship . . . Bob wants to play as much as possible.

Gino Cappelletti FI-B 34 6' 190 Minnesota

"Duke" is the AFL's all-time scoring king . . . needs only 51 points to reach 1000 mark* . . . only one man in pro football history, Lou Groza of Cleveland's Browns, has ever done it . . . has won scoring title five times ('61, '63, '64, '65 and '66) . . . only one man, Don Hutson of Green Bay Packers (40-44), has ever won that many . . . Gino's string of four straight broken last year . . . finished third with 95 points . . . first year under 100 since 1960 when he started out as a defensive back . . . has excelled since then as a pass receiver . . . reached milestones of 250 receptions, 4000 yards and 40 touchdowns last season . . . his moves on pass patterns are a thing to behold . . . led Pats in reception yardage and TD passes in '66 . . . had his longest ever (63 yards from Parilli against Houston that year . . . is a dapper dresser and does well in fishing, golfing and skiing . . . won Metropolitan Miami Fishing Derby last year as guest of Jets owner Sonny Werblin . . . five-time AFL All-Star . . . was a quarterback at Minnesota . . . signed as free agent after he requested if he could accompany two other big name stars from Minnesota to Pats' first tryout camp . . . holds AFL scoring record of 155 points (1964). Kicked six FG's in game at Denver that year . . . set club field goal record with a 53-yarder against the New York Jets in '65 . . . also set one game record in '65 finale with 28 points . . . another of the few AFL Iron Men — never missed a game in league history . . . is associated in off-season with Allied Chemical . . . commenting on all of the new receivers being brought into camp, Gino advised, "I feel I'm far from washed up as a receiver."

John Charles DB 22 6'1" 195 Purdue

Blue chip rookie who came through in first-class style . . . "the best we've ever had at that corner spot," said Coach Holovak in early stages of '67 season, "and he'll get better" . . . first three receivers he faced as starter were Colts' Ray Berry, Bills' Art Powell and Redskins' Charlie Taylor . . . held them scoreless . . . "not only an outstanding pass defender," says new DB coach Claude Gibson, "but extremely tough—a real hitter" . . . intercepted Namath pass for 35-yard TD and first pro score . . . Pats' top draft choice in '67, he signed his contract on his birthday . . . teammates have tagged him "J.C." . . . first man in pro football history ever drafted on first round as defensive backfield specialist . . . in magazine poll of pro scouts in '66, was named "top collegiate defensive back prospect in the nation" . . . despite playing only half the season as a senior, was named Sporting News and Time All-American . . . in rare award for defensive performer, was voted most valuable player in '67 Rose Bowl . . . played in Senior Bowl, Coaches' All-America Game and College All-Star Games before joining Pats . . . from Linden, New Jersey.

Jim Colclough SpE 31 6' 135 Boston College

An all-time Patriot star . . . has provided Pats fans through the years with some of their greatest thrills . . . ranks behind only Alworth and Du-benion in best all-time AFL average gain with passes caught (17.6) . . . ranks ninth in top ten of all-time AFL pass receivers . . . has caught 275 passes for 4865 yards in his eight years of AFL play . . . was traded to Jets in 1965 for John Huarte but Pats traded later to get him back . . . knows his way around . . . had 16 catches for 284 yards in '66 . . . an original Patriot . . . spent a year before AFL career as defensive back in Canada . . . an extremely spirited competitor.

Jay Cunningham DB 25 5'10" 180 Bowling Green

Versatile pass defender . . . backup free safety and corner . . . last year returned 30 kickoffs for 627 yards and 17 punts for 105 yards . . . also intercepted pass against Miami and returned 54 yards for touchdown . . . progressed in '66 to starting corner berth in mid-season but was injured (groin) in first game as starter (Miami) and lost for the season . . . one of the fastest of the Pats . . . safety valve on defense against opponents' kickoff returns . . . led Pats and finished ninth in league in kickoff returns in '65 . . . led Pats again in '66 . . . can go ail the way . . . "Jay the dart" set many records at Bowling Green where he excelled as a running back . . . was All-Conference for three years and received All-American mention.

Bob Dee DE 34 6'4" 250 Holy Cross

Champion Iron Man of all AFL defensive linemen . . . has never missed a league game . . . 112 in a row . . . wore same helmet for 105 of them . . . scored first touchdown ever made in AFL when Pats beat Bills in inaugural exhibition in '60 . . . is senior man on league's most consistently successful front four . . . "Bubba" led Pats in key fumbles recovered in '66 . . . showed his versatility that season by switching to linebacker in Pats' "prevent" defense . . . after his adjustment to dual role of DE/LB, team's record went from 1-2-1 to 7-2-1 . . . joined Boston's pros after a year of coaching at Holy Cross . . . previously was a regular for Washington Redskins . . . played in East-West Shrine Game after starring at Holy Cross . . . was defensive captain for two seasons . . . has some of his best games against AFL's premier tackle, Chargers' Ron Mix . . . San Diego coach Sid Gillman has called Bob "best in the league" . . . probably stresses finesse more than any other defensive end in the league . . . uses outstanding knowledge of the game and opponents he faces to best advantage . . . along with opposite end Larry Eisenhower of B.C. forms the "Jesuit Express" on the pass rush.

Larry Eisenhauer DE 28 6'5" 250 Boston College

One of pro football's finest defensive ends . . . three times All-League and four times Eastern All-Star . . . was on his way to another All-League campaign when mid-season injury (11/5 vs. Houston) put him out for rest of year . . . Pats failed to win from then on . . . was named AFL's lineman-of-the-week for his job as Pats gave Bills first shutout ever, 23-0 . . . "I've never seen anyone get so keyed up before a game," says teammate Tom Neville . . . "Ike" is the Patriots' wild man . . . bullying, bashing style on the pass rush . . . "Eisenhauer is the best all around end I play against," says Houston's Walt Suggs, "he really comes at you like a wild man" . . . Buffalo's Jack Kemp said after Pats' big late season win over Bills in '66, "Eisenhauer hit me harder than I've ever been hit in my life" . . . said Joe Namath after last year's game at Shea, "he puts on so much pressure he darn near kills you" . . . has good duels with Buffalo all-star tackle Stew Barber . . . teams up with Bob Dee to give Boston a pair of defensive ends called the Jesuit Express . . . German and Irish . . . when the defensive unit is on the sidelines, you'll usually see him moving around, urging his teammates on . . . carrying on tradition of the many B.C. linemen who made it big with the pros . . . off-season knee surgery successful . . . recovery way ahead of schedule . . . preparing for '68 season by selling electronics equipment for Milgray of Burlington.

Tom Fussell DE 21 6'3" 250 Louisiana State

This second-year man will come back from knee surgery following injury in last home game . . . played behind Eisenhauer in his '67 rookie season . . . saw some starting action during late season . . . was one of eight of last year's draft choices to see regular season action . . . drew early praise from coaches in pre-season camp . . . rated by his coaches as the best senior lineman on the LSU team in '66 . . . especially effective on the pass rush . . . blocked two punts for touchdowns in college and blocked a punt in his first pre-season game for the Pats . . . three year starter for the Bengal Tigers . . . was first LSU star ever to play in East-West Shrine Game . . . also played in 1967's Senior Bowl and Coaches' All-America Game . . . drew special praise from Alabama Coach Bear Bryant for his play against the Crimson Tide in '66 . . . comes from Baton Rouge, Louisiana . . . has been working out in off-season at his Alma Mater.

Larry Garron HB 31 6' 195 Western Illinois

Once mainly the Pats ace running threat but now rapidly also becoming one of the top pass receivers in the league . . . may see more action at flanker than at setback in '68 campaign . . . passed the 2500 yard mark on receptions in last home game of '67 . . . needs only 105 yards rushing to crack 3000 yard career mark . . . his 6.0 yards per carry in '62 best ever by a Patriot . . . also set club records with 85 yard touchdown run from scrimmage (Buffalo, '61) and 95 yard kickoff return for TD (Buffalo, '62) . . . one of top performers in this year's AFL All-Star game . . . took Namath pass for 26 yards over and through potential tacklers to set up East's winning score . . . third among all-time AFL players in Most Yards Gained, Lifetime, (7,704) and Highest Average Gain, Lifetime (7.72) . . . cracked the all-time top ten of AFL rushers and fourth among all-time AFL kickoff returners . . . before Jim Nance, Larry had been, since the team's inception, the prime, consistent ground threat as a fullback . . . was cut in 1960 but came back 20 pounds heavier in '61 to stick for good as a self-made star . . . was voted Boston's most valuable player in '63 . . . "one of the best backs at catching passes I have ever played with," were the words of Babe Parilli on this unassuming half-back threat . . . played for Denver coach Lou Saban in college . . . now associated with H. P. Hood & Sons.

John Mangum DT 24 6'1" 270 Southern Miss.

"Jumbo John" going into his third season . . . saw some starting duty in '67 . . . "he has done a very fine job for us at times," says Coach Holovak "and could become a regular" . . . especially good against the ground game . . . admits he has to keep weight down . . . former college teammate of Doug Satcher's at So. Miss. on defensive team that led nation . . . has good speed for a big man . . . three years ago was called "the best tackle in the entire South" by Pats Chief Scout Ed McKeever . . . was Boston's fourth selection in '65 draft . . . from Magee, Mississippi.

Leroy Mitchell DB 23 6'2" 185 Texas Southern Surprise find of last year's rookie crop . . . cited by vets as top rookie in training camp . . . came into Pats camp as flanker but looked too good at corner to switch . . . plays his man unusually close on coverage . . . the few "big" passes completed on Leroy came on perfect lead throws with the rookie step for step with his man . . . featured the leaping, spectacular save . . . former roommate of Oilers' W. K. Hicks . . . his three fellow backfield mates (Douglas, Ellison, Hopkins) all drafted by pros . . . wore double zero (00) in college . . . rooms on road with Jim Nance . . . was last year's eleventh round draft choice . . . before Pats former DB Ron Hall left for expansion club Cincinnati he predicted a bright future for #41, "everyone talks about his rabbit-quick speed but what impresses me more are his instincts for the ball — he should be something" . . . after the rookie held Lance Alworth to all-time low against Pats the Charger great said, "he's the best they've ever had at corner but I'm glad I'm facing him early — he'll get better" . . . good height at 6'2" . . . has been timed at 9.8 for the 100 . . . helped sign Willie Porter, who inherited his (00) and position (FLB) at TSU in '67 . . . from Wharton, Texas.

Jon Morris C 25 6'4" 255 Holy Cross

East's All-Star center every year since he joined pros . . . '66 performance got him All-League nod (AP) over Oakland's Jim Otto . . . national magazine's survey of AFL scouts rated him "best in the game in some departments . . . especially good on cut-off block" . . . one of the game's biggest at his position . . . in 1967 became first AFL lineman ever honored by Washington Touch-down Club — named as D.C. area's top athlete . . . a product of nation's Catholic Youth Organization, he also recently won that group's award as top athlete . . . his line coach, former Baltimore Colt Art Spinney, says of Jon, "he has great knowledge and savvy . . . a fundamentally sound football player . . . and the best in the business" . . . one of the top gridgers in Holy Cross history . . . captained Crusaders in 1963 . . . played sixty minutes in every ball game as linebacker and center . . . could have been outstanding pro linebacker had not his ability as offensive center been so exceptional . . . was a #2 draft choice of Green Bay Packers . . . captained All-Star Senior Bowl team in '64 . . . also drew special praise from Coach Otto Graham for his outstanding performance in Chicago's College All-Star Game . . . Jon's father is with New York Times office in Washington, D.C. . . . in poll of AFL players during his rookie season, Jon missed by one vote being named top center in entire league . . . two years ago one national sports publication named him top pivotman in either pro league . . . very able at handling two rushers at once . . . his speedy snaps shaved crucial tenths of a second off Cappelletti field goal attempts . . . should end up as one of the best of all time.

Jim Nance FB 25 6'1" 240 Syracuse

Leading ground gainer in all of pro football for last two years in a row . . . "Jim Nance is the closest thing to Jimmy Brown I've ever seen," said Miami Coach George Wilson, "he cracks the middle more explosively than Brown did, while Jimmy was faster outside — but Nance is fantastic and there's no telling how great he can become" . . . "Big Bo" led the AFL last year with 1216 yards even though all defenses were stacked solely to stop him . . . he reminds all that "our offensive line is up against those same stacked defenses and they still move 'em out for me — they're too underrated" . . . got his nickname from his college singing group — "The Beaumarks" . . . on his blocking, Babe Parilli submits, "he's the best blocking back in the league — and I'm the guy who ought to know" . . . Player of the Year" and "Most Valuable Player" in the AFL in 1966 . . . was All-League FB again in '67 . . . first to lead AFL in rushing two years in a row . . . only Jim Brown and Steve Van Buren have lead league in rushing more than twice . . . missed '67 All-Star Game to serve six months military duty but was starting fullback in '68 . . . nine year NFL veteran lineman Ed Khayat, who was with the Pats last year before retiring, calls Jim "the best fullback in the world" . . . The Pats NFL Opposition

NEW ORLEANS SAINTS . . . The newest of the NFL teams . . . Pats are first AFL team to meet them . . . won five of the first six games they ever played (pre-season contests) . . . '67 regular season log read 3-11 . . . this meeting will be a battle of the fullbacks . . . Jim Taylor (1474 yards in '62) vs. Jim "Big Bo" Nance (1458 yards in '66) have accounted for more single season yardage than any back in pro football history outside of Jimmy Brown . . . Head Coach ex-Rams' receiver Tom Fears . . . their first draft choice of '68 was Notre Dame's Kevin Hardy . . . ex-Cornell and New York Giant Gary Wood is QB backup to Bill Kilmer . . . #4 Pats choice, HB R.C. Gamble meets up with former college backfield mate Bennie Blocker . . . safety Don Webb's half-brother — Charlie Brown — is an OHB . . . Saints top rookie and number one receiver, Dan Abramowicz, was a 17th round draft choice . . . "Saints and Sinners" is their highlight film . . . ex-Patriot Ed Khayat is defensive line coach . . . averaged 75,463 for home games at Tulane Stadium . . . high crowd — 83,437 (Dallas and Atlanta home games).

PHILADELPHIA EAGLES . . . Cities of great history and tradition meet in holiday battle on Labor Day . . . ex-Eagles lineman Jesse Richardson now Pats' assistant coach . . . ex-Pat Fred Bruney now Eagles assistant coach . . . ex-Pat John Huarte getting a pre-season shot at Philly QB role . . . Eagles' head coach is Joe Kuharich . . . Joe was Nick Buoniconti's coach at Notre Dame . . . All-NFL Bob Brown and many times All-AFL Larry Eisenhauer will bang heads on the snaps . . . both were once hired by the same company at the same time (a car carrying firm) . . . USC All-American MLB Adrian Young, an Eagle rookie, was born in Dublin, Ireland . . . former Boston College players include Bobby Shann, Mike Evans, Len Persin, Bill Stetz and Tom Sarkisian . . . QB Norm Snead had his best year in '67 . . . passed for 3,399 yards — finished second only to Redskins' Sonny Jurgensen . . . Mikt Ditka Gary Ballman, and Ben Hawkins lead receivers . . . Eagles were NFL champs in '60.
