Why Patriots?

The name Patriots was among many selected in 1960 by New England fans. The various names were submitted to a panel of sportswriters and Patriots emerged as the winner. 74 fans had picked Patriots. Phil Bissell of the Boston Globe soon produced the insignia.

A Brief History of the Patriots

The winning of the Eastern Division title last season in the American Football League's first playoff culminated a four-year competitive battle for the Patriots' organization.

However, the 26 to 8 triumph at snowy Buffalo on Dec. 28, 1963 fulfilled a dream of much longer duration.

A professional football team for Boston had been the constant brainchild of Bill Sullivan, Jr., for 10 years before he secured a franchise on November 22, 1959, in the American Football League that was less than three months old at the time.

Sullivan, who had been prominent in sports previously as publicist at Boston College and Notre Dame during the days of Frank Leahy, followed by a term as Public Relations director of the baseball Braves while they were still in Boston, brought nine other prominent New England industrialists and sportsmen into ownership with him.

They were Dom DiMaggio, the ex-Red Sox star; Dan Marr, former co-owner of the Braves; Joseph E. Sullivan, Bill's uncle and well-known printer; Paul Sonnabend of the family behind the Hotel Corporation of America; Edgar L. Turner, president of the Seven-Up Bottling Co. in Greater Boston; Dean Boylan, president of Boston Sand and Gravel Co.; Ed McMann, Maine blueberry packing tycoon; John Ames, Jr., and the late George Sargent, the last two from two of Massachusetts' most famous families.

William Kemble was named a director later to represent some 1600 stockholders who bought non-voting stock after the Patriots pulled another of their firsts by issuing 100,000 shares of stock for public sale.

Only two changes have taken place in the original ownership. Forrester (Tim) Clark, one-time Harvard athlete, bought out Ames and the untimely death of George Sargent saw his brother Francis, present Commissioner of Natural Resources in Massachusetts, take up George's one-tenth interest.

While they were still struggling to acquire a home field (they finally got Boston University field, which was old Braves Field transformed), the new owners lost no time in getting busy on promotion and personnel.

A contest was held to name the new club and "Patriots" was selected by a panel of Boston sports writers in keeping with the New England heritage. Red, white and blue were naturally selected as the team colors.

The first football expert hired ultimately proved to be the most important one right up to the present writing. He was Michael (Mike) Holovak, who had just completed a nine-year tenure as Head Coach at Boston College. Mike was originally hired by the Patriots as Director of Player Personnel.

Next in line for the front office was the selection of Ed McKeever as General Manager. Ed had a quarter of a century of experience in every phase of football—as a player at Texas Tech; a coach at Boston College, Notre Dame, Cornell, San Francisco and LSU; and a general manager-coach of the Chicago Rockets in the old All-American Conference.

Lou Saban, the first head coach of the Patriots, was a virtual unknown when signed out of Western Illinois, although he once captained the Cleveland Browns.

The front office staff was completed with the appointment of Gerry Moore, veteran Boston sports writer, as Director of Public Relations; John Fitzgerald, former airlines representative, as Ticket Manager; and Miss Joanne Parker as receptionist.

Saban brought most of his staff with him from Western Illinois, added Holovak as offensive backfield coach, and the first Patriots' practice of all time was held, fittingly, on July 4, 1960, on the campus of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

As candidates came and went by the dozens almost daily, a 36-year-old former Canadian League and Greater-Boston sandlot star, Ed (Butch) Songin, outlasted 12 other aspirants to become the quarterback who was to lead the Pats through their first season.

The Patriots added to their list of firsts on July 30, 1960, when, following a night-before parade before 100,000 spectators, they played the first AFL exhibition game in history, beating the favored Bills, 28-7, in a contest witnessed by 16,000 spectators in 90-degree heat.

Keeping up on the firsts, the following August 14 the Pats played the first professional sporting event ever held in the famous Harvard Stadium, losing 24-14 to the Dallas Texans in a charity exhibition tilt, then, on September 9, 1961, at Boston University field the Patriots played the first regular season contest in AFL history. They were upset, 13-10, by the Denver Broncos, before 21,597 fans who welcomed pro football back to Boston after an 11-year absence.

The first edition of the Patriots stayed in contention for the Eastern Division championship for the first 10 games with a 5-5 mark, but dropped its last four games to finish in the AFL cellar.

Linebacker Tom Addison and rookie safetyman Ross O'Hanley were named to the first AFL All-star team, while guard Charlie Leo and defensive end Bob Dee earned spots on the second team.

Another vital development in the history of the Patriots occurred during the off-season when the Boston club acquired the services of quarterback Babe Parilli and fullback Billy Lott from the Oakland Raiders in exchange for halfback Dick Christy, fullback Allen Miller and tackle Hal Smith in what still stands as the biggest AFL trade in its four-year history.

The Patriots got off to a floundering start in 1961 and following the fifth game (2-3) Saban was replaced by Mike Holovak as head coach. The one-time Boston College All-America fullback, a PT-boat hero in World War II and professional star with the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears, was named coach on October 10, 1961.

Under Holovak, the Patriots finished that campaign with a 7-1-1 rush, but the Houston Oilers won their last nine in a row to finish one game ahead of the Pats in the final Eastern Division standings.

Gino Cappelletti became fully established as a split end under Holovak and wound up the 1961 season as the highest scorer in professional football with 147 points that still stands as an AFL record.

Holovak also introduced the innovation of alternating quarterbacks Parilli and Songin on each play. This shot-gun system lasted until the last three games of the season when Songin was injured and Babe established himself as the number one QB on the club.

The Patriots landed Charlie Leo on the first official All-League team in 1961 and placed five more—Cappelletti, Addison, Larry Garron, Gerry DeLuca and Dee—on the second team. All except DeLuca of that group appeared in the first All-Star game at San Diego, along with Fred Bruney, who was honored as Co-Capt., and Jim Lee Hunt.

The Patriots switched their training camp to the exclusive Phillips Andover Academy campus. Coach Holovak also added a new coaching staff of Art Spinney, Marion Campbell and Bruney.

By mid-season of 1962 the Patriots were leading the Eastern Division by half a game. They had turned away 10,000 fans for a game with Dallas at B.U. field and Parilli was enroute to his greatest season as a pro.

Then disaster struck. In a game in Houston on November 10 Parilli suffered a broken collarbone and the fortunes of the club were left in the hands of Tommy Yewcic. Babe's understudy had thrown but eight passes in his entire career, and, although he stepped in to do a yeoman's job, the Oilers pulled the game out, 21-17, and went on to win their last four games and the Eastern title for the third year in succession.

The Pats put four players on the All-Star contingent in 1962, Parilli, Addison, Jimmy Colclough and Larry Eisenhower. This quartet was joined by Charlie Long, Dick Klein, Dick Felt and Bruney for the All-Star game at San Diego.

During the 1962-63 off-season, another historical development came about when the Patriots signed to play all but one of their home games at Fenway Park, the home of the Boston Red Sox. Their home opener was played at Boston College Alumni field, thereby completing the cycle whereby the Pats have played at all three Greater-Boston universities with accommodations large enough for them.

After taking their first Eastern Division title, the Patriots ran afoul of the San Diego Chargers in the championship game at San Diego, 51 to 10.

However, no less than 11 Pats remained in San Diego to represent the East coached by Mike Holovak in the annual All-Star classic.

They included unanimous All League selections Tom Addison, Larry Eisenhauer, and Houston Antwine. Also Larry Garron, Nick Buoniconti and Billy Neighbors, who were named to some first All-League selections. Rounding out the starry group were Babe Parilli, Gino Cappelletti, Charley Long, Bob Dee and Ron Hall.

Some changes took place in the front office and coaching staff before the present campaign started. Ed McKeever, at his own request, shifted from general manager to director of player personnel. Marion Campbell and Fred Bruney left to be replaced on the coaching staff by Chuck Weber and Carl Taseff.

Sullivan Delivers

by HUCK FINNEGAN

ED. NOTE: (Since the following column was written William H. Sullivan, Jr. has served two successive terms as President of the American Football League, four years as President of the Patriots, two years as Chairman of the Stadium Authority. We would like to thank Huck Finnegan and the Record-American for their courtesy in permitting the Patriots the use of this story.)

There is a tendency in some quarters to downgrade Billy Sullivan and to pooh-pooh his chances of establishing pro football on solid footing in our fair city. So a word of caution: Don't underestimate this young Boston College (1937) graduate. He is a doer. He hasn't gone into this thing blindly, and he has bulging cash-bins at his disposal.

William H. Sullivan, Jr., was considered a dreamer two years ago when he called the press to the University Club and unveiled plans for a pretentious stadium to be built in Norwood. He had the purse-strings of an upstate brewery at his disposal, and the stadium might be an actuality today had Tom Yawkey agreed to move his Red Sox from their outmoded ball park. Bill, Jr., was "too far ahead of the parade" and that, as Jimmy Walker pointed out long ago, is dangerous.

Started Jimmy Fund

Bill, Jr., gets things done . . . It was he, as Braves publicity man, who started the Jimmy Fund in 1948 when Dr. Sidney Farber was doing cancer research in an apartment building. Today Dr. Farber has a five-story building, a multi-million dollar project as a result of the work that Sullivan started . . . It was Sullivan who made Bob Elliott the NL's Most Valuable Player in 1947. The Braves finished third that year, and the trend has always been to vote for a member of a first place team. Sully got out a brochure on Elliott and placed it in the hands of every member of the selection committee. The Braves' third baseman would never have received the award without Sully's help.

Patriots owners at 1960 meeting.

There is a certain school not far from the Boston line that needed ONE THOUSAND dollars for a mortgage payment. Where to turn? Speed was imperative. The school's plight was called to the attention of the man who just brought pro football to Boston. He raised not the one thousand asked but TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS . . . Anybody who can do that in these days of touch upon touch is a master.

It was young Mr. Sullivan again who put over so resonantly the Bill Cunningham dinner last April 19. The old Dartmouth center had been one of the area's most accomplished after dinner speakers and had a coast-to-coast radio show. Now he had lost his voice, and Bill Jr. promoted the dinner as a morale-builder. He had a head table that included Rocky Marciano, Gene Tunney, Jack Sharkey, Casey Stengel, Westbrook Pegler, Fulton Lewis Jr., Frank Leahy, Lou Little, Cardinal Cushing and college presidents.

This was a spontaneous gesture of friendship, and the response was so immediate and startling that no hotel in Boston was large enough to handle the affair. So it was held in McHugh Forum, Boston College, and at $25 a pop, largest fee ever charged for a sports dinner, Sully disposed of 1189 tickets in 11 days. That is sheer genius.

He has been responsible directly or indirectly for oh so many ventures . . . Boston College-Navy football, for example; Boston College-Pitt and Boston College-Dartmouth. He did much to promote the Boston College seminars. And there was the dinner recently to Dr. Tom Dooley, from far-away Laos who went back with $5000 in his pocket to further his medical benefactions.

"They haven't even got a field" say the deprecators of the new A. L. football team. But what comes first, the field or the franchise? . . . It is being rehashed that Bob McKirdy failed with his Boston Bulldogs way back in the 1920's that the Shamrocks and the Redskins and the Yanks also failed. So the crepe hangs high.

The same crepe was hanging high in 1901 when a young newspaperman from Cincinnati named Ban Johnson placed an American League baseball team in Boston in opposition to the established Boston Nationals, and who won that one? . . . Sully's first job was to get the franchise. He fought three other cities for it and won out. Who fights for something he can't use or something he doesn't know what to do with when he gets it? Not Bill Sullivan.

Officers

Dan Marr, vice president

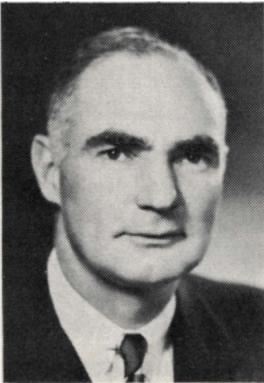

Colonel Marr has been a football player and fan all his life. He was a stockholder of the Boston Braves and played for the Pere Marquettes — a famed semi-pro football team from South Boston that played in the home of the Patriots—Fenway Park. As John Ahern of the Globe pointed out in an article on Danny—the Colonel doesn't pick losers. His company, Daniel Marr and Sons is one of the nation's leaders in steel erection. A stalwart member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, Dan makes most of the trips with the club. During his spare time he serves as commissioner of the New England Football League.

Mike Holovak

The name of Mike Holovak, which has been a Boston byword for a quarter of a century, received countless added echoes of praise last season when he led the Patriots to their first Eastern Division title in four tries.

Many critics felt that this was Mike's greatest coaching job of a distinguished career. Faced with the loss of Ron Burton and Don Webb before the season even started and handicapped further by a stream of problems throughout the campaign, he kept the team together until it finally prevailed in the American Football League's first playoff—a 26 to 8 triumph at Buffalo.

Yet, that achievement did not completely satisfy the modest, soft-spoken man himself. Nor will he be entirely happy until his Patriots have erased the memory of their championship loss in San Diego and have gone all the way to the AFL flag.

This dedication and determination typifies the entire life of the now 44-year-old Holovak, who lost little time making his presence felt after he first appeared on the Boston College campus in the fall of 1939 as the proverbial "poor boy" from Lansford, Pa.

As a sophomore, Mike scaled the football heights for the first time when he was a 60-minute fullback on Frank Leahy's undefeated B.C. squad that won the National championship by downing Tennessee, 19 to 13, in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1, 1941.

En route to this climax, Mike played 60 minutes during a 19 to 18 triumph over Georgetown at the same Fenway Park where the Patriots now play their home games. That particular contest was described by the late and great Grantland Rice as the "greatest college football game ever played."

The popular expression of "Give It To Mike" came into being during the 1942 season of mixed emotions when Holovak and Freddy Nаметz co-captained a squad for the late Denny Meyers that ran roughshod over everybody until the still unbelievable 55 to 12 shellacking from arch rival Holy Cross in the final regular season engagement.

to the Orange Bowl the following New Year's Day and gave good account of themselves before finally succumbing, 38 to 21, to superior Alabama depth and the Florida heat. In a typical performance, Holovak scored all three B.C. touchdowns that day.

During his undergraduate days at Boston College were born the first seeds of associations that led to Mike's being tapped as chief strategist of the Pats many years later.

The then Lowell, Mass. home of Billy Sullivan, B.C. publicist at the time and now founder and president of Boston's professionals, was among the first where young Holovak had dinner away from the Chestnut Hill campus.

Ed McKeever, now Director of Player Personnel of the Patriots, was then Leahy's lieutenant and was chiefly instrumental in convincing the Seton Hall Prep prize to matriculate at B.C. in preference to many other institutions that sought him. McKeever still calls Mike "the best fullback with whom I ever have been associated."

He was graduated in March, 1943 in the stepped-up program of that era and immediately enlisted in the Navy. Typical of his entire career, he chose the dangerous PT service. It is only from his shipmates that one learns about the valiant service he rendered to his country while serving in the South Pacific. He still retains his active reserve status as a Lieut-Commander, attends weekly meetings and carries out his two-weeks sea duty each year.

Following his separation from the Navy, Mike played one season with the Los Angeles Rams and two seasons with the Chicago Bears. He was remembered with such affection by Windy City NFL followers that when he was appointed head coach of the Patriots on October 10, 1961, one Chicago paper ran an eight-column headline: "Ex-Bear Holovak is new coach of the Patriots."

After three years as a professional came the call to the coaching ranks from his Alma Mater, first as freshman tutor and then for nine years as a varsity mentor, the longest skein of a head coach in B.C. history.

During that stretch, he compiled a 49-29-3 record with squads that often were so thin that Mike had to convert a host of players into strange positions.

Pat's President Bill Sullivan signed Mike in December 1959 as director of player personnel. After Lou Saban became the first head coach, Holovak took on the added duties as offensive backfield coach.

The big change came after the fifth game of the second or 1961 season. Saban, with a 5-9 record for the first season and 2-3 for the current one, was replaced with Holovak.

Mike immediately steered his charges to a 7-1-1 mark for the rest of the campaign and finished one game back of the champion Houston Oilers.

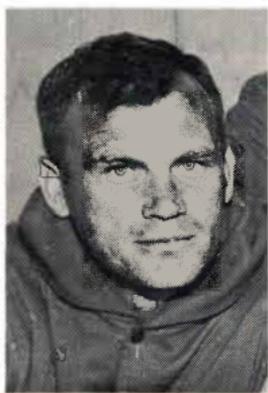

The 1962 season was almost a duplicate with the Patriots finishing 9-4-1 and were a half game behind the repeating Oilers going into the final weekend. A Houston victory on Saturday in New York ended the Patriots' hopes.

Holovak's regular-season AFL record is an impressive 23-11-3. Added to it are the playoff victory and the championship game loss. He will be striving from the start in 1964 to break into the championship win column.

Mike is married to his college sweetheart, the former Edith Casavant, and they still reside in her home town, Natick, Mass., with their two charming daughters Michele, a student at the Univ. of Massachusetts, and Terrie, still in grade school.

The Assistants

ART SPINNEY—Offensive Line Coach

Art Spinney came home to the scene of his early football triumphs to take over as offensive line coach of the Patriots starting with the 1962 season.

At high school in his native Saugus, Mass. and later at Boston College, Art won just about all the honors that were available to a two-way end in those years.

Following his graduation from B.C., in 1950, he joined the Baltimore Colts as an end, but the Army derailed him for the next two years. He returned to the Colts in 1953 and it was then that Weeb Ewbank, present coach of the New York Jets, converted Art into an offensive guard and a brilliant pro career.

This included playing on two championship Baltimore teams, being named All-Pro two years and playing in the Pro Bowl classic at least three times.

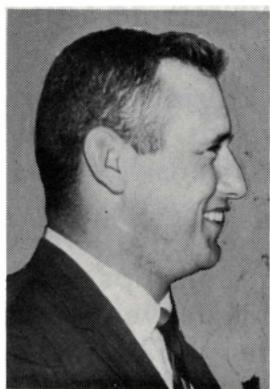

Art himself decided when his active career was at a close. He launched his coaching career as an assistant to Ernie Hefferle at B.C. in 1961.

When he became available the following year, Mike Holovak lost no time in bringing Art's vigor and dedication to the Patriots.

He is married to his high school sweetheart, the former Mary Pappas, and they still reside in Saugus with their six young children Laura, Stephen, John, Craig, Michael and Neal Edward.

Art carries on a liquid tile business when he is not busy grooming the Patriots' offensive linemen.

CHARLES WEBER—DEFENSIVE LINE COACH

The defensive line coach of the Boston Patriots is Charles (Chuck) Weber, 34-year-old former key defensive star with two professional championship teams.

Weber, who is a native of Philadelphia, was a rookie defensive end when the Cleveland Browns won the National Football League title in 1955 and called the defensive signals from his middle guard berth for the Eagles when the latter took the N.F.L. crown in 1960.

In between times, Chuck played outside linebacker and served as defensive captain for the now St. Louis Cardinals.

For the last two years, Weber has been head coach of Abington, Pa. High, steering that school to the Suburban I championship in 1962 with an 8-1 record.

Jesse Richardson, the Patriots' veteran defensive tackle, was among the highest in recommending the new coach to Holovak.

Weber has had coaching experience in addition to the last two years. Following his graduation from West Chester State College where he won Little All-American honors in 1952, Chuck went on active duty with the Marines for three years.

He was defensive line coach while also playing for the Cherry Point Marines in 1954 when he won All-Marine and All-Sea Service honors. He also acquired his B.S. and Ed.M. degrees in Health and Physical Education while following his seven-year career in pro football.

After separation from the Service, he joined the Browns for the 1955 and 1956 seasons as a defensive end. He moved to the Cardinals for the next two seasons where he played both outside linebacker and middle guard in the five-man line formation used in those days.

He then joined the Eagles for his final three seasons during which they finished second twice around the 1960 championship.

Chuck is married to the former Virginia Irvin Tiley and they are the parents of Charles 6, Wayne 4 and Tracey 2.

CARL TASEFF—DEFENSIVE BACKFIELD COACH

The defensive backfield coach of the Patriots is Carl Taseff who was a teammate of Patriots' Offensive Line Coach Art Spinney at Baltimore when the Colts were winning championships and who finished his active career by playing the 1962 season with the Buffalo Bills. Taseff was hired last May to replace Fred Bruny who joined the staff of the Philadelphia Eagles.

"We wanted a man with experience, who also was acquainted with our league," said Holovak. "From my own knowledge and all other reports, it seems we have acquired the man to fill the bill in Carl."

Although he now resides in the Baltimore suburb of Towson, Md., Taseff is a native of Cleveland where he earned Little All-America honors as a fullback at John Carroll.

Following his graduation in 1951, he signed with the Browns and played that year in his home town.

He spent 1952 in the service and got his first coaching experience, sharing the job of tutoring the Camp Polk, La., squad with Don Shula, present Baltimore head coach.

Carl's biggest thrill in football came in Los Angeles when the Colts were meeting the Rams in the most important contest of the schedule. The Rams had moved into Colt territory, and attempted a field goal which was blocked. Eighty thousand fans saw Carl Taseff race 99 yards for a TD which provided the margin of victory for the Colts.

From 1953 through the first half of the 1961 campaign, Taseff was regular left cornerback for the Colts, playing on the championship 1958 and 1959 teams while winning All-League honors the latter season.

Halfway through the 1961 season, he was traded to the Philadelphia Eagles with whom he finished out that campaign.

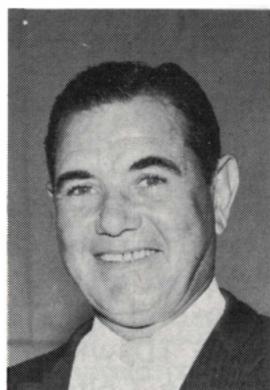

Taseff has had the distinction of playing against the College All-Stars in the annual Chicago classic three times. When he first joined the Browns, they were the NFL representatives and he later played twice for the Colts in that annual fixture.

ORIGINAL PATRIOTS (11)

Ron Burton, Gino Cappelletti, Jim Colclough, Jim Crawford, Bob Dee, Larry Garron, Ross O'Hanley, Jack Rudolph, Chuck Shonta, Tom Stephens, and Bob Yates were members of the Patriots squad which met and defeated the Buffalo Bills in the first game ever played in the American Football League on July 30, 1960. The score of that contest was 28-7 as Bob Dee's recovery of a fumble in the Buffalo end zone sparked the lads from Boston.

There is one other original member of the A.F.L. now on the Patriots, Dick Felt, who played two seasons with the New York Titans.

ED McKEEVER
Director of Player Personnel

A native of Texas, Ed starred as a quarterback in his undergraduate days at Texas Tech. Since joining the Patriots four years ago, he was honored as Texas Tech's outstanding athlete of the past 25 years.

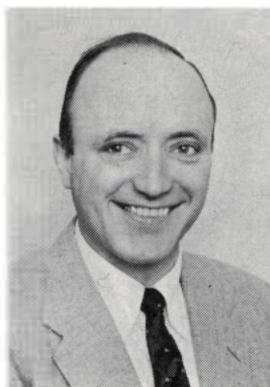

He entered the coaching profession and made his first appearance in Boston simultaneously, serving as backfield coach under Frank Leahy with the Boston College Cotton Bowl and Sugar Bowl teams of 1939 and 1940. The latter squad won the National Championship by beating Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl.

Ed accompanied Leahy to Notre Dame the following year and when Frank entered the service in mid-1943, McKeever took over as head coach through 1944. During that stretch, the Irish enjoyed a 12-2 record.

He entered the professional ranks for the first time in 1948 as both general manager and head coach of the Chicago Rockets in the All-American Conference.

Ed served for four years as General Manager of the Pats before requesting his present assignment.

Ed lives in Baton Rouge, La. with his wife Gail. They have twin daughters, Jane and Mrs. Charles Corkern.

JOHN J. FITZGERALD

Business Manager

If you drive through Kenmore Square late at night and notice the lights in the Patriots office burning brightly, chances are that John J. Fitzgerald, affable Business Manager of the Patriots is hard at work. John is a native of Everett and first developed his great love for football as a varsity guard for Denny Gildea on the Everett High team.

At the outset of the war Fitz entered the Navy and served under Admiral Bull Halsey and Chester Nimitz as well as Admiral O. A. Littlefield of Duxbury and Commander Bob O'Hayre of Cohasset.

After six years of Navy Blue, John donned the red, white and blue for the first time with United Air Lines. He eventually became manager of United's Boston office.

In October of 1959 the Buffalo Bills gained a franchise in the infant American Football League. Fitz was among the leading contenders for the job of Ticket Manager with the Bills. He called his old friend, Bill Sullivan, for a letter of recommendation and Bill suggested that Fitz wait a week. In that week the Pats became the eighth member to join the American Football League. John Fitzgerald donned the red, white, and blue a second time as he was the first person to be hired by the new Boston club. Initially Fitz handled the tickets, but now he is in charge of much of the other business of the club.

John and his wife, the former Margaret Healey of Arlington, now live in Swampscott. They have six children: Mark 13, Kevin 12, Terry 10, Julie 8, Rose Marie 5, and Brian 3.

GERARD MOORE

Director of Public Relations

ED. NOTE: (The information below contains excerpts from a column by John Gilooly at the Boston Record American. Although the column was written four years ago its message is still as pertinent now as it was then. Gerry Moore has helped the Patriots become an integral part of the Boston scene in these four years.)

He's a bit shy of six feet tall and he weighs less than 190 pounds but the Patriots yesterday signed on a man who can be of as much value to them as Gone Ron Burton, the back you see now and next see in the end zone.

The name is Gerry Moore and yesterday he was appointed director of public relations by Patriots president Billy Sullivan, who didn't wait ten days choosing his pitchman. It was Moore from the start. No one else was considered for the tub on which Moore will thump out rhythmic and expert releases.

Moore Has the Background

But I, for one, consider the Patriots downright lucky to be able to have a man of Moore's competence available. You don't find Moores too frequently. Here's the perfect prefabricated press-agent, with all the skills and the shining personality.

"I did some thinking about it, sure," said Moore, press secretary to Lt. Gov. Bob Murphy for the past three years and in a good position under the golden dome. "But I was in newspaper and associated businesses for 26 years and my enthusiasm for sports never did rub off. This is like coming home. This could be the most fantastic sports story of our time—the development of the Boston team in the American Football League and I'm fascinated to be playing a part in it."

A graduate of Boston Latin and Boston College, where he was a top scholar-athlete captaining the golf team and goal-tending for the hockey team, Moore began his journalistic career as a sophomore at the Heights. He was student correspondent for the Herald, working his way through at 25 cents per inch of space.

Moore did a hitch on the Transcript after graduation and then the Globe lured him. He was there 12 years and then spent three in the Navy as a lieutenant. After a year as tournament director for the PGA, he returned to the Post in 1947 and was a star sports writer, handling top assignments with a fine flourish, until that newspaper foundered in 1956.

Great Sport Names Laud Appointment

Thereupon he joined Lt. Gov. Murphy and this little pinch of politics should be just sufficient to make him the complete diplomat. Take a veteran of the press and sprinkle him with a few flakes of politics and you have precisely what the Patriots needed, Gerry Moore, who can have just about everything he desires in this department. Indeed, should the Patriots lose a game I'll feel reluctant to say so. I'll blame it on the weather or injuries or bad luck or something.

DR. JOSEPH DORGAN

Team Surgeon

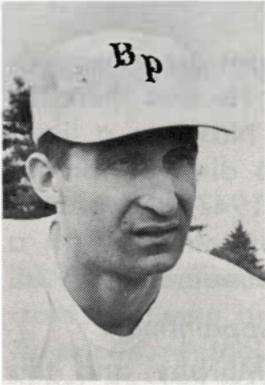

Dr. Joe was born in Lawrence, educated in Lowell, and now lives in Belmont . . . has been with the Pats since the beginning . . . performed disc operation on Ron Burton last year and Ron played 3 months later, a record in sports . . . a graduate of Holy Cross (Class of 1941), Joe also attended Tufts Medical where he now teaches . . . He is a member of the staffs of Boston City Hospital, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, and Cambridge City Hospital . . . He is Chief of Orthopedic Surgery at the Malden City Hospital . . . Joe and his wife Mary have three children, Joannie 19, Barbara 16, and Mary Anne 13 . . . The Patriots feel fortunate to have one of the nation's foremost surgeons on their team.

WILLIAM T. BATES

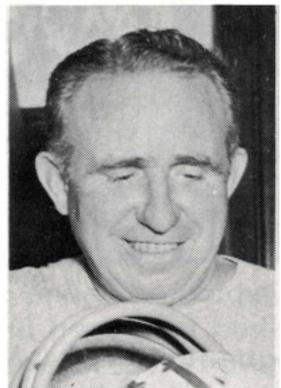

Trainer

William T. Bates was named trainer of the Boston Patriots in June of 1961. Bill fought in the Korean War in the front lines. He returned to the states and studied Biology and Physical Therapy at the University of Pennsylvania. He started assisting in the training room at Penn and eventually became the visiting trainer for the Philadelphia Warriors. Bill also worked for the NFL Philadelphia Eagles as assistant trainer. It was while with the Eagles that Bill became friendly with Pete Retzlaff. Retzlaff was a friend of then-coach Lou Saban, and when the Patriots opportunity came, Pete sent a letter to Lou pointing out the qualifications of William T. Bates. Will was selected from among several applicants and has served with the Pats since then. Bill assisted Ron Burton in his recovery of last season. His article on Ron's recovery will be published in the Journal of Physical Therapy this Fall. When the spirits of the Pats sag, it is usually William T. Bates who picks them up.

RALPH DELLO RUSSO

Equipment Manager

The most eligible bachelor of the Boston Patriots is not Ross O'Hanley. He is the man who keeps the Pats going—Ralph Dello Russo. This year marks Ralph's fifth year with the Patriots and his twenty-second in the equipment business. During his four-year tenure he has outfitted more than six hundred aspirants to the Red, White, and Blue.

Ralph was born fifty years ago in a Fleet Street apartment in Boston's North End, into a family of five boys and three girls. He became interested in athletics at Boston Commerce High where he participated in varsity football. After graduation he enlisted in the Army as a Medical Corpsman.

As soon as the war was over he applied for the equipment manager's job at Boston College. He won the job and for seventeen years served the Eagles in every sport. During those years he also assisted the late Frank Jones in the training and care of B.C. athletes.

In 1949 Mike Holovak became Freshman Coach of the Eagles and immediately a strong friendship developed between the husky Polish Pennsylvanian and the stocky Italian. When Mike joined the Pats in their first year, Ralph followed after him.

For twenty-two years Ralph has worked hard at his profession. He is now generally recognized as the top man in the business. Manufacturers of Sports equipment frequently consult with Ralph on new ideas.

Ralph still lives in the Fleet Street home in which he was born with his two sisters.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY, ANDOVER, MASS.

The Boston Patriots have the good fortune to train at the famed Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass. The surroundings are rustic and academic. The people on the Andover staff have made every possible effort to assure the Patriots that they are welcome. The facilities are the best, from the seven football fields, to the Isometric Room, to the swimming pool.

Steve Sorota, the head coach of football at the school, also supervises the Patriots Isometric Program. Sorota is an alumnus of Fordham and his watchful guidance of the Pats has produced a great increase in the strength of the club.

Ted Harrison and Frank Buchan of the Academy staff have arranged a training camp that is second to none.

Boston Patriots

1776 Club

Probably the most enthusiastic group of fans that can be found anywhere in the American Football League are the members of the 1776 Club of the Boston Patriots. This Club was founded at the beginning of the 1962 season by a small group of avid fans headed by John F. Gildea, a Greater Boston businessman. Meetings were held in the early part of June, and invitations to join were sent out to season ticket holders. A tremendous turnout came to the first meeting, and plans were formulated for the season. Various club members have been responsible for the large number of season ticket sales.

At the start of each training season, the 1776 Club sponsors a Family Day Barbecue at the Andover training camp. At this time, the coaches introduce the new players to the fans. Various contests are run off. These contests consists of running, passing, and kicking and the 1776 Club awards prizes to the winners.

When the football team leaves on a trip, there are members of the 1776 Club at the airport to give them a sendoff. And when the team returns after a trip, there are 1776ers at the airport to welcome them home no matter what the hour.

The new President of the 1776 Club is Robert H. Griffin, president of Griffin Travel Agency in Manchester, New Hampshire. Bob was one of the original members of the 1776 club and has been a devoted fan of the Patriots since their inception. The club is hosting a kickoff dinner in honor of the Patriots on September 24th at Blinstrub's Village. The 1776ers conduct a dinner dance after each season and a series of luncheons during the season.

THE PATS ON RADIO . . .

BOB GALLAGHER

Bob Gallagher is an original Patriot. He has been with the club since that sunny day in Buffalo on July 30, 1956 when he called the first exhibition game ever played in the A.F.L. between the Buffalo Bills and the Patriots. Bob Gallagher was here at Mikeside on September 9, 1960 when the Pats played the first regular season game against the Buffalo Bills.

Bob's ties with the Pats, however, go back even further. He was calling the games at B.C. beginning in 1956 when Mike Holovak was head coach.

Mike and Bob struck up a strong friendship which has lasted since that time.

Bob was broadcasting for WJDA in Quincy when Bob Dee played at Braintree High. He was broadcasting for WNEB in Worcester when Bob played at Holy Cross, and he has been calling pro games with the Boston Patriots, since Bob Dee donned a Pat's uniform.

Bob has had offers from the Cleveland Browns. He has turned the Browns offer and several other offers down to remain with the Red, White and Blue.

A tackle at North Quincy High, Bob is an alumnus of Boston College and Curry College. He is Sports Director at WEEL and is the Boston correspondent for CBS Sports.

A sailor in his spare time Bob, his wife Audrey, and family make their home in Scituate, Mass.

What makes Bob one of the great announcers in our time is his ability to describe common football situations in a fresh and unique fashion.

THE PATS ON TV . . .

CURT GOWDY

Now in its fifth year of televising American Football League games, the American Broadcasting Company Television Network has expanded its coverage to present professional football at its most exciting best.

This expanded, and perfected, TV coverage includes the use of five and sometimes six TV cameras. The games will be covered from high angle cameras, field cameras and on occasion the portable hand-held camera sometimes referred to as a creepy-peepy. This camera, carried on the shoulder of the cameraman, captures dramatic closeup action and color shots.

Highly sensitive directional mikes that pickup the 'sounds of football'—the boom of a kick, the barking of signals, body contact and crowd reactions—will be strategically located to pick up the sounds that give the viewers the feeling of being at the game.

Closeup, intimate shots of the players, coaches and officials will be used so that viewers may 'get to know the men on the field.' Interviews at halftime and after the game will be used occasionally.

It takes a crew of 30 to 35 people to cover a game. Included in this group are the producer, director and crew in the mobile unit where the pictures are selected that go out on the air. There are the cameramen and technicians inside the stadium operating the equipment, commentators and spotters. In addition, back in a studio there is another crew which inserts the commercials.

The announcers for 1964 are Curt Gowdy, Paul Christman, Charlie Jones, and George Ratterman.

PATS ON TV SIX TIMES THIS FALL

The Boston Patriots may be viewed live on six occasions this fall. In the Boston area, the Pats will be televised exclusively by WNAC, Channel 7 in Boston, Channel 6 in New Bedford, Channel 8 in Portland, Maine, and Channel 9 in Manchester, New Hampshire. The games are being telecast by ABC with Paul Christman, Curt Gowdy, Charles Jones, and George Ratterman at the mike.

Channel 7 screens will be blacked out on only two Sundays this year since the League ruling is that the local TV station in the area in which a pro football game is being played cannot carry either that game or any other game on that particular day.

They are on Sunday, September 27, when the Pats will be challenging the New York Jets at home in Boston and again on Sunday, December 20, when the Buffalo Bills meet the Pats in home Hub territory.

The Boston Sullivans

Ed Note: As the Patriots approach the fifth year of operation, Harold Kaese's prediction that the seventh try at pro football would be lucky has materialized. This column has been reprinted from the Boston Globe of Nov. 22, 1959, with the permission of Mr. Kaese.

By HAROLD KAESE

The new un-un-un Boston professional football team — unnamed, unlocated and unidentified — has given a heady fillip to the New England sports scene.

Fans here anxiously await tomorrow's draft in Minneapolis, first ever in the new American Football League, wondering if Bill Sullivan can grab Billy Cannon of L. S. U., Don Meredith of S. M. U., Roger Davis of Syracuse, Monty Stickles of Notre Dame and Prentice Gault of Oklahoma for the Boston — shall we call them the Sullivans?

Nothing would twang the chords of hope more than for the coal merchant from Wellesley to return home with legal rights to Cannon.

The Boston club could then use as its first slogan: "Have Cannon; will travel."

The better the material drafted by the Sullivans, the better the chance of signing up an outstanding coach. Paul Dietzel himself might be tempted to follow Cannon here.

One thing sure, as the new Boston club finds players, coach, nickname, TV sponsors, a park to play in, and officers to accompany Sullivan, football news surely will crowd the Bruins and Celtics right through the playoffs.

Pro football has never made the grade here but this, the seventh try, may be the lucky one.

What beat the six previous clubs — that is, the Bulldogs I, Bulldogs II, Bears, Redskins, Shamrocks and Yanks — was an insufficiency of income, the result of the following:

- (1) Relatively weak teams;
- (2) unstable leagues;
- (3) inadequate parks with too few covered seats;
- (4) too much competition for publicity from local colleges;
- (5) uncertain, often aggressively unfavorable weather.

With the help of the leading local authority on pro football George (Jiggie) Kenneally, here is a brief history of the game in Boston:

BULLDOGS I—Operated by Bob McKirdy one year, 1926. Coached by Herb Treat. Cy Wentworth a star. Played Fenway Park. Lost games and money.

BULLDOGS II—Pottsville, Pa., Maroons moved here by Kenneally, backed by Eddie Morris, stock broker and noted scoreboard wig-wagger at Harvard Stadium; 4-4 record in National Football League. Folded when Morris folded in stock crash. "A great little guy from Southie," Kenneally of Morris.

REDSKINS—1932-36; five-year record: 24-28-5. George Marshall made deal with Kenneally, who still owned Pottsville franchise in N.F.L. Started as Braves at Braves Field, then Redskins at Fenway Park, 1933. Lost $85,000. Memory: Marshall pleading with fans to return ball kicked into stands. Jumped prices with no announcement 1936, souring fans, then moved to Washington just as team got good. Battles, Pinckert, Edwards, Lone Star Dietz.

SHAMROCKS—1936-38. First backer Paul Thurlow; Kenneally coach. Won title first year American Football League. Good team, weak league. Played first night game, first all-star game in New England. Signed Larry Kelley (Yale), Giants recalcitrant, but he was lured away before playing. Club hurt by Sept. 21, 1938, hurricane. Finished barnstorming. Star: Hank Soar. Played Fenway.

BEARS—1940. Sheldon Fairbanks promoter, Eddie Casey coach, Kenneally general manager. Played Fenway. In American Conference. Vito Ananis, Andy Farkas, Vic Obeck. Not enough interest.

YANKS—1944-48: 14-38-3. Ted Collins, Kate Smith, Bill Shea, Herb Kopf. Lost $700,000 five years, said Collins. Not one winning season. Moved to New York as Bulldogs. Flopped.

AFL NOTES—The average time per game in the AFL was two hours and thirty minutes . . . there were 3540 passes thrown in the AFL in '63 out of 7639 total scrimmage plays in the league . . . The Patriots took to the air on 410 occasions last year out of 1153 plays . . . The Bostonians completed 184 of their 410 passes and had 29 intercepted.

PATRIOT NICKNAMES

The Boston Patriots possess an array of very interesting nicknames. Houston Antwine was dubbed Twine by his college coach because the coach had a great deal of difficulty pronouncing Antwine. Nick Buoniconti was called "Skip" as a youth because his aunt felt that Nicholas was too old a name for such a young lad. Jack Rudolph and Harry Jagielski were the first to address Gino Cappelletti as "Duke" because of the Minnesota product's impeccable attire. Patriot teammates Ross O'Hanley and Ron Hall were responsible for Jimmy Colclough's nickname of "Coleslaw." Jim Crawford is known as "Cowboy" since the lanky fullback hails from Greybull, Wyoming. "Bubba" Dee was given his nickname by his high school coach, Tom McCann and the name has remained with the Braintree native ever since.

When Larry Eisenhower was a young boy his father called him "Ike" as it was easier to pronounce than Eisenhower. J. D. Garret is the real name of the Natchitoches flash, but his brothers and sisters called him D.D. as the J. was hard to say. When it came to high school diploma time, J.D.'s professor wrote James Davis Garrett on the document. Years later Ed McKeever nicknamed J.D. "Red River" because a Louisiana river of that name runs near J.D.'s home.

Larry Garron was named "Pierre" by his Patriot teammates the first year the Pats were in business. The name springs from the fact that Garron is a French name. Larry Eisenhower was the inventor in Ron Hall's case. Ike was the first to call Ron "Haystacks" as a result of Ron's residence in Missouri. Jimmie Lee Hunt has two nicknames both of which had their origin with Pats' voice, Bob Gallagher. Jim Lee is called "Pickles" because he worked while at Prairie View A&M as a pickle packer at the Prairie View pickle packing plant. Jim is also well known as Earthquake because when he walks tremors often occur. Bob Gallagher also nicknamed Charles Long as "Choo-Choo."

Billy Neighbors is the only Pat whose name springs from a cartoon character. Will is known as "Spanky" because of his close resemblance to Spanky McFarland of the Our Gang series. Vito Parilli has been known as Babe since his adolescent years. Jesse Richardson for the past few years has been called "Big Jess" but this year in the training camp some of the boys began calling the twelve year veteran "Marlon." Al Snyder's father was the first to call Al "Spike", while Don Webb received the epithet "Spider" from his teammates as a result of his movements on the field.

Pete Pedro was dubbed "Pistol Pete" by Lynn Item Sports writer Red Hoffman because of his explosive style. Chuck Shonta is known as "Ton-to" because of his Indian ancestry. Ancestry was also the primary factor in the nickname of another Patriot veteran. The name is "Comrade" and the veteran is Tom Yewcic.

The Patriots Office Staff

The Patriots are fortunate to boast the prettiest girls in the Bay State as members of their office staff.

Joanne Parker of Melrose, Mass., is a graduate of the Katharine Gibbs School. She is an original Patriot as she joined the Boston grid group in June of 1960. Her biggest thrill came when the Pats won the Eastern Division Championship last year. Although she is leaving the Pats this fall to go West, as long as the Patriots are in existence, there will be something of the spirit of Joanne Parker with them. She promises to return for the Championship game in Boston on December 26th.

Kathy Norton is in her rookie year with the Patriots. An Alumna of Cohasset High School and Chandler School for Women, Kath enjoys swimming and softball in her spare time. She is rapidly learning the plays of the Patriots office and in no time she will be able to serve as a regular.

The Patriots' Fan

Burpee of Manchester, N. H.

The Boston Patriots are fortunate to have the most devoted fans in sports today. Few will forget the reaction of our fans when Jesse Richardson was fined $500.00 for fisticuffs in the Pats-Oilers battle in '62. Jack McCarthy of Concord organized a drive at the next home game against Buffalo and gathered sufficient funds to pay the fine. Jesse's comment: "They never did things like this in Philadelphia while I was playing for the Eagles. Boston is a big league town."

Ben Burpee, John Birch, and Bernie Levenson are always nearby at practice and in the office whenever they can spare a moment from their personal affairs.

Charlie Oliviero of Everett voluntarily serves the Pats in a dual capacity. During his lunch hours Charlie calls upon the various Boston employee groups for ticket sales. On his weekends Charlie helps Ralph DelloRusso with the Pats equipment.

Devoted fans such as the above have assured the Patriots of a continual residence in the fair city of Boston.

In all, 96 men have donned the red, white, and blue of the Boston Patriots.

The death of George L. Sargent on April 10, 1962 came as a stunning blow to his best friends.

The Vice President and an owner of the Patriots, he was a member of the University of Virginia eleven.

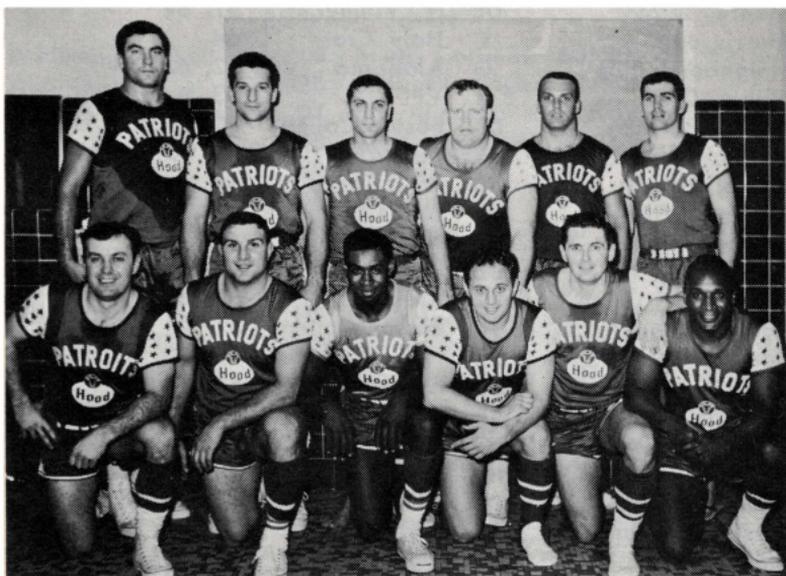

A group of his closest friends established a Memorial plaque in his name for the Patriots' Most Valuable Player as selected by his teammates at the close of the present season.

This is a most fitting tribute to the late Vice-President of the Patriots, who was described by President Bill Sullivan, Jr., as "The Greatest Patriot of Them All."

Patriots Basketball Team

The Boston Patriots Basketball Team was organized last January by Gerry Moore, the Pats' publicist who is the General Manager of the Quintet.

The squad features Tom Yewcic, Larry Eisenhower, Art Graham, Larry Garron, Babe Parilli, Gino Cappelletti, Ron Burton, Ross O'Hanley, Jim Colclough, Nick Buoniconti, and Charley Long. Assistant General Manager is George Luongo.

H. P. Hood and Sons sponsored the Team through the kindness of Tom Feenan, who is director of Hood's program for youth fitness.

Fred Bruney and Charley Long were coaches of last year's team which soon became the top semi-pro team on the New England circuit. From the isle of Nantucket to White River Junction in picturesque Vermont, the Patriots' Basketball Team set attendance records. The record of the team was 15-8.

Marlboro, Scituate, Danvers, and Lowell hosted standing room only crowds as the Patriots explosive brand of football was carried between the hoops.

Other towns which saw the team in action were Gloucester, Milton, Hyannis, Bourne, Concord, Boston, and Haverhill.

Any one wishing to challenge the Pats should phone Gerry Moore at CO 2-1776.

THE ROAD TO THE EASTERN DIVISION CROWN

SEPTEMBER 8—24,120 at BOSTON
Boston 38, N.Y. 14

Game played at Boston College Stadium . . . Pats trailed 0-7, pulled ahead 14-7 . . . Tied 14-14 at half . . . Gino Cappelletti broke the game open in third period with a 31-yard field goal . . . Babe Parilli showed that he had completely recovered from the shoulder injury of the year before as he hit for 18 out of 35 passes, 1 for a TD and scored another from 20 yards out via the ground route.

SEPTEMBER 14—26,097 at SAN DIEGO
Boston 13, San Diego 17

The Pats offense sputtered as Babe Parilli hurt his arm . . . Pats were in San Diego territory 11 times but only scored one touchdown . . . Tommy Yewcic came off the bench to lead the Boston team to its only TD as the former Tiger catcher took the ball into the promised land from one yard out on a QB sneak . . . Pats went ahead 3-0, but trailed 10-14 at the end of the first half . . . Cappy booted field goals of 35 and 36 yards.

SEPTEMBER 22—17,131 at OAKLAND
Boston 20, Oakland 14

The spirited Pats took over first place in the East as they defeated the surprise team of the west, the Oakland Raiders . . . The Bostonians jumped to a 20 to zip lead as Billy Lott scored on a 55-yard pass against his former Raider teammates . . . Although Babe's arm was still bothering him, the former Kentucky All-American completed 7 out of 12 for 98 yards . . . Larry Garron scored on a rush from 3 yards out and Cappy kicked for field goals of 47 and 43 yards.

SEPTEMBER 29—18,636 at DENVER
Boston 10, Denver 14

The Pats scrambled to a 3-0 half time lead on the 18-yard field goal of Gino Cappelletti . . .

the "Duke" scored again on a 31-yard pass . . . Parilli hit for 8 out of 17 and 99 yards . . . Denver won on a late 4th period pass from U. of Mass. product John McCormick to Lionel Taylor . . . The winning pass play was good for 76 yards . . . Defeat put Pats in tie for second with Houston.

OCTOBER 5—16,769 at NEW YORK
Boston 24, New York 31

The Pats trailed 0-14, 10-21, and 10-24 while losing to Weeb Ewbank's Jets . . . Tommy Yewcic threw for three TD passes . . . two to Boston rookie Art Graham of 25 and 57 yards . . . Gino added a 22-yard field goal . . . The Pats led in rushing 105-46, in passing 304-172 and in first downs 22-10, but time ran out as they marched toward pay dirt in the final seconds of the contest.

OCTOBER 11—26,494 at BOSTON
Boston 20, Oakland 14

The Patriots first appearance in Fenway Park was an auspicious one as the men in the red, white, and blue defeated the Oakland Raiders by the same score as they had on the west coast . . . The Bostonians led 3-0, but fell behind 14 to 3 . . . The Pats showed the spirit of 1776 as they scored 17 points in 4 minutes and 44 seconds . . . Tom Neumann was at the receiving end of a 15-yard TD pass, and Jimmy Colclough caught another paydirt pass of 56 yards . . . Cappy continued his kicking ways as he scored on two three pointers of 37 and 32 yards.

OCTOBER 18—25,418 at BOSTON
Boston 40, Denver 21

The Pats jumped to a 10-7 lead in this night contest at Fenway . . . It was 23-14 at the half and 26-21 in the third stanza . . . The consistent native of Keewatin, Minnesota, Gino Cappelletti, continued on his road to the AFL scoring championship as he scored an unbelievable 22 points . . . His field goals were for 24, 34, 42, and 32 yards . . . he also scored on a 24-yard pass play . . . the "Sweet Kentucky Babe" showed his '62 form in passing 21 out of 31 for 358 yards.

OCTOBER 26—29,243 at BUFFALO

Boston 21, Buffalo 28

The oldest rivalry in the American Football League was rekindled as the Pats trailed 0-7, tied it at 7-7, fell behind 7-21, tied it up again 21-21 on a 77-yard pass from Babe Parilli to Artie Graham . . . Jack Kemp delighted the home crowd with but thirty seconds remaining as he teamed with Charley Ferguson on a 73-yard pass play which won the game . . . The other Boston scores were made by Romeo on a six-yard pass and Crump on a two-yard rush.

NOVEMBER 1—31,185 at BOSTON

Boston 45, Houston 3

It was a cold and rainy night as the Pats' defense stole the show . . . Bob Suci caught two interceptions against his former Houston teammates in his first starting assignment in the red, white and blue . . . He returned one of the interceptions for 98 yards . . . Jimmie Lee (Call Me Earthquake) Hunt also showed his startling speed as the 266-pound defensive tackle scampered 79 yards with an interception for a TD . . . It was the largest margin of victory for a Patriot eleven and it put the Pats and Oilers in a tie for first place . . . Ross O'Hanley and Tom Addison were the other Pats' stars as they both grabbed interceptions in the end zone.

NOVEMBER 10—28,402 at BOSTON

Boston 6, San Diego 7

It was a wet and cloudy afternoon in Boston as the Pats lost to the charged up Chargers . . . Lance Alworth tied a league record with 13 receptions for 217 yards including a 23-yard TD toss . . . Larry Garron ran 23 times for 91 yards

. . . Cappy kicked two field goals of 35 and 25 yards, despite the muddy conditions.

NOVEMBER 17—17,270 at BOSTON

Boston 24, Kansas City 24

Babe Parilli had one of his greatest days as he hit 25 out of 47 for 354 yards and a Boston record . . . Tony Romeo also had a record Boston performance as he caught 10 passes . . . The Pats trailed 0-7, led 15-10, tied it up at 17-17, and went ahead 24-17 before being tied . . . Boston PAT blocked as K.C. defense also stopped a Boston thrust from the one yard line . . . Cappy marked up three points with a 32-yarder.

NOVEMBER 24

Postponed because of the Assassination

DECEMBER 1—16,891 at BOSTON

Boston 17, Buffalo 7

The wind was gusty at the Fens as the mercury dipped to 32 degrees and the Boston Patriots dumped the Bills from Buffalo . . . Larry Garron provided the spark against his former college coach, Lou Saban, as he caught a 44-yard TD pass from Babe Parilli . . . Gino booted a 43-yard field goal and Babe himself scored on a sneak from two yards out . . . The Pats were behind 7-0 at the end of the first half, but Babe's screen pass to Garron provided the equalizer . . . Art Graham was also outstanding on a 39-yard pass play as he dragged Buffalo defender Willie West 26 yards.

DECEMBER 8—23,462 at HOUSTON

Boston 46, Houston 28

All the chips were on the table as the co-tenants of first place in the East fought it out . . . The Pats' defense again proved to be the deciding factor as it forced the Oilers into three fumbles and six interceptions . . . Nick Buoniconti took one fumble seven yards for a six pointer and the amazing Bob Suci scored another with a 52 yard interception return . . . Tom Yewcic's 40 yard passing beauty to Art Graham was the key play in the contest as it put the Bostonians out in front by 17 as the half ended.

DECEMBER 14—12,598 at Kansas City

Boston 3, Kansas City 35

It was a sad day for the Patriots as they missed the opportunity to clinch the Eastern Division Crown . . . The thermometer plunged to a record 11 degrees as Boston's only score came on a 15-yard field goal by Gino Cappelletti . . . Lenny Dawson was the star as he passed for three TD's and ran for another.

DECEMBER 28—33,044 at Buffalo

Boston 26, Buffalo 8

The league's first opponents played the league's first playoff game as tons of snow preceded the Pats into Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium . . . Ronald Eugene Burton made an heroic return from disc surgery a few weeks before as he shot the gap behind Billy Neighbors for 13 yards . . . It was again the key offensive line of Neighbors, Cudzik, Long, Graham, and Oakes that furnished protection so effectively for Babe Parilli . . . As in other games the defense played a major role in this victory as it held the fabled Cooke Gilchrist to 7 yards . . . Gino Cappelletti belted four strikes through the uprights of 28, 12, 33, and 36 yards . . . The only Buffalo high-spot was a 93 yard pass from Daryle Lamonica to Elbert Dubenion in the third period . . . Larry Garron scored the initial TD for the Bostonians on a nifty 59 yard swing pass play . . . Bubba Dee set up the final field goal with an interception . . . Jack Rudolph had his finest day in the red, white, and blue as he made the big stop on eleven occasions.

JANUARY 5—31,270

at San Diego

Boston 10, San Diego 51

The Chargers took the field as 6½ point favorites and they managed to leave it as 41 point victors . . . Everything seemed to go wrong for the spirited Patriot eleven as star fullback Larry Garron suffered a concussion, Houston Antwine re-injured his back and Harry Crump fractured his shoulder . . . The Boston scores were made by Garron on a 7 yard run and Cappy on a 15 yard field goal . . . Keith Lincoln of the Chargers carried for an amazing 206 yards on the ground and 123 yards in the air as well as two TD's . . . Tobin Rote completed 10 out of 15 passes for 173 yards, while Babe Parilli passed 14 out of 29 for 189 yards.

PATS - GLOBE CLINIC

The Boston Patriots and the Boston Globe each year jointly sponsor two clinics. The first is held for all the high school and college coaches in the New England area. The second is held for all the high school and college players in the six state region. This is the third year the clinics have been conducted. Both follow the same format as Coach Holovak and his staff explain the complexities of the Patriots system and then utilize the Pats squad in demonstrating them.

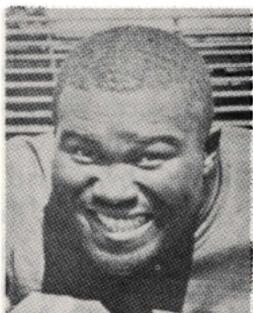

Globe Sports Editor, Jerry Nason, and Pats President Bill Sullivan came up with the idea and it has become the most popular clinic in New England. Bob Ahearn of Natick is promotions director for the Globe. Bob is a neighbor of Coach Mike Holovak in Natick. Bob and Assistant Sports Editor Bob Holbrook supervise the administration of the clinic while Mike and his coaches take care of the football aspects.

THE PLAYERS

Tom Addison LB 28 6:2½ 230 So. Carolina U.

Thomas Marion Addison was born in Lancaster, South Carolina and attended the University of South Carolina where he studied Business Administration . . . Played for the Baltimore Colts in '58 and Philadelphia Eagles in '59 . . . Tom joined the Patriots just before the game with the Chargers in 1960 and has played left linebacker with the Club since that time . . . He has played in every AFL All-Star Game and was elected defensive Captain and Player Representative of the Patriots last season . . . Tom was also selected by all the players in the League to be President of the Player's Association giving the Pats two Presidents. (Bill Sullivan is President of the League)

Houston Antwine DT 25 6:1 270 Sou. Illinois U.

Likeable, smiling "Twine" has already become the most feared defensive tackle in the American Football League . . . Originally envisioned as an offensive guard, Pats' Coach Mike Holovak saw Houston's defensive potential and switched him to the Pat's version of the Fear-some Foursome . . . Received a back injury 13th game of last season and was advised to rest for the remainder . . . Scorned the advice and redoubled his efforts to bring Eastern Division Championship to Boston . . . Hobbies include guitar playing and wrestling . . . A native of Memphis, "Twine" was a unanimous All-league selection last season . . . Few will argue that he deserves the accolade "Best in the League."

Gino Cappelletti SE 30 6:0 190 Minnesota

"Duke" is one of the original Patriots . . . joined the Club as a defensive back where he remained for the 1960 season . . . Mike Holovak suggested that the Keewatin, Minnesota native try split end . . . even as the switch of Antwine from offense to defense produced an All Star performer, the switch of Cappy from defense to offense had the same happy result . . . Kicked four field goals in playoff victory against Buffalo last season . . . holds AFL scoring record of 147 points in a single season (1961—8 TDS, 48 PAT, 17 FGS) . . . has gained over a mile in his career with the Pats.

Nick was called "too small for pro football" more than once during his sparkling tenure as Captain of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, but he has since made his critics eat their words ten times over . . . A native of Springfield, Mass. "Skip" joined the Pats in 1962 . . . He played high school football at Cathedral High in Springfield and as a two-way guard led the Irish in tackles in his senior year with 74 . . . Marion Campbell, defensive line coach of the Minnesota Vikings said of Buoniconti "Nick has no peer at diagnosing plays, is second to none at pursuit and giving the second effort, and right now is a better linebacker than Sam Huff the best day Huff ever saw" . . . AFL Coaches furnished vivid proof of Campbell's statement as they selected Nick for their All League Team last season.

Dave is one of the speediest rookies to join the Patriots . . . Tried as a flanker by the Buffalo Bills, Dave found that his best position was in the defensive secondary . . . A little All-American at Gardiner High School in Maine, Dave spent one year at the University of South Carolina before switching to the University of Maine in his home state . . . During his spare time Dave enjoys skin diving.

Jim Colclough OE 27 6:0 185 Boston College

James Michael Colclough has been the Patriots number one receiver since joining the Pats on July 4th 1960 . . . The spirited and eager former Quincy High and Boston College star has caught 49, 42, 40, and 42 respectively and has had his best training season in his career . . . Nicknamed Coleslaw by roommates, Ross O'Hanley and Ron Hall because of his last name, Jim often makes coleslaw out of opposing defensive backs . . . An all Catholic selection in '58, Jimmy spent a season as a defensive back with the Montreal Alouettes.

Larry Eisenhower DE 24 6:5 250 Boston Col.

Lawrence C. Eisenhower is of German and Irish ancestry and has combined his German strength with his Irish fighting spirit to produce the AFL's finest defensive end . . . An All-Star in '62 and '63, Ike starred as a two-way end in his first two years at Boston College and was then switched to tackle . . . Navy coaches tabbed "Ike" as the "best lineman" the Middies ever faced and A.F.L. coaches are re-echoing the same sentiments . . . Now a resident of Wellesley Hills, Ike spends the off season teaching and attending Boston State Teachers College for his Master's Degree . . . Also called "Baby Huey" Ike is the major reason why morale and spirit have become the most important ingredients in the success of the Boston Patriots.

J. D. Garret FB-HB 22 5:11 185 Grambling

First Negro to play professional football from Nachitoches, Louisiana . . . Charley Hennigan and Charley Tolar are both from Nachitoches . . . Played four years at Grambling College in Louisiana . . . gained 834 yards during his senior year, J. D. was also named the outstanding senior in his school for his loyalty, athletic prowess, and scholastic achievement . . . Also champion in track and swimming . . . Nobody in the country has ever defeated J. D. in breast stroke . . . In his spare time, the pride of Nachitoches likes to instruct youngsters in swimming and football . . . Nicknamed "Red River" by Pat's backfield coach Ed McKeever, J. D. is the most promising rookie to ever don the Red, White, and Blue.

Larry Garron FB 27 6:0 215 Western Illinois

Larry received The George Sargent Memorial Trophy from his teammates as the MVP on the Pats in 1963. He already holds several Patriot rushing records and seems destined to rewrite the books countless times before he hangs up his flashing cleats for good . . . Although hampered by injuries in 1961 and 1962, Larry was the key in the Boston offense last season . . . Three years ago against the Buffalo Bills he went 85 yards from scrimmage for a TD that still stands as a Pat record . . . He was on the AFL's first All-Star team in 1961 and also in 1963 . . . A resident of Cambridge, Larry is studying for a teaching degree at Boston Teachers College and was recently appointed Recreation director for the South End branch of the Boston Boys' Club . . . A high-stepping, hard-driving runner and a sure-handed pass catcher, Garron proves a real double threat from his fullback post and can also be utilized at halfback . . . He is one of the most popular Pats and is in constant demand on the banquet circuit . . . Larry was cut from the Patriots in 1960 . . . Many less determined would have quit . . . Not Larry, he put on thirty pounds and came back to learn some more . . . A self-made ball player, Larry is now among the Patriots most valuable assets.

Charlie Long OT 26 6:3 250 Chattanooga

Charlie teams up with Billy Neighbors on the other side of the line to give the Patriots the best one-two guard combination in pro football . . . Choo-Choo as he was nicknamed by Bob Gallagher played 80 straight games in high school, college and pro ranks before an ankle injury forced him to miss an exhibition in the summer of '63 . . . Charles B., however, was quickly back in the starting lineup and earned all-star status for the second straight year . . . U.P.I. Little All-American in his college days, Chas is one of the morale boosters on the Patriots squad . . . He is the major reason why the spirit of the Patriots of 1964 is second only to the spirit of the Patriots of 1776 . . . Tackle in his first two years, Charlie switched to guard in '62 at the request of Pats' Coach, Mike Holovak and continued his All-Star recognition despite the change.

Don McKinnon LB 22 6:3 230 Dartmouth

Don was Dartmouth's center, linebacker, and All Everything in '62 . . . Last year he did such an impressive job in training that he ousted veteran Rommie Loudd from the linebacking quartet which also includes Tom Addison, Jack Rudolph and Nick Buoniconti . . . The big blonde was the first authentic Dartmouth All-American since Bob McLeod of the mid thirties, the first Ivy League selection since Princeton's Dick Kazmaier a decade ago . . . Although he suffered a fractured hip during training this summer, Don is ready to go for the '64 Pats . . . Don is still single and lives with his folks in Arlington, Mass.

Jon Morris C 22 6:4 233 Holy Cross

The captain of Holy Cross's eleven of last year, Jon led the Crusaders to a 9-0 upset victory over rival Boston College before 25,000 stunned fans . . . started every game from mid sophomore year for the Saint James' Mountaineers . . . played sixty minutes in every ball game as a linebacker and center . . . #2 draft choice of the Green Bay Packers and #3 of the Pats, the Chevy Chase, Maryland native chose the Boston eleven despite every possible inducement by Vince Lombardi . . . won Varsity Club award for two years running at the Cross . . . father is with New York Times in Washington, D.C. . . . Captain of All Star Senior Bowl Squad, Jon also impressed Otto Graham by his fine play in the Chicago All Star Classic.

Billy Neighbors OG 24 5:11 245 Alabama

William Wesley Neighbors is one All-American who far exceeded expectations . . . Winner of the Jacobs Award at Alabama for the best blocker in the Southeastern Conference, Billy was the primary reason why the Crimson Tide was acclaimed as the National Champion in 1961 . . . His professional career has been even more illustrious as he was one of the few players in the history of professional football to ever gain regular status in his initial campaign . . . "Spanky" as the Patriot players call Billy was one of the main reasons why Larry Garron set all sorts of rushing records last fall . . . Billy was named on some All-League selections last season and made his debut in the All-Star game at San Diego.

Don Oakes OT 25 6:3 250 Virginia Tech

Donald Sherman Oakes was born and still resides in Roanoke, Virginia . . . This is his second year with the Patriots . . . He was drafted by the Bostonians in 1961 but signed with the Philadelphia Eagles where he played the greater part of two seasons . . . A consistent ballplayer, Don is thoughtful and thorough in his approach to the profession of football . . . the holder of a B.S. degree in Distributive Education, Don was highly recommended by former Eagle teammate, Jess Richardson.

Ross O'Hanley DB 25 6:0 180 Boston College

An original Patriot, Ross has been regular safety for the Patriots since their inception in 1960 save for a service hitch which required Ross to do duty during the Berlin crisis . . . He was All-League as a rookie in 1960 . . . A quarterback at Everett's Christopher Columbus High, Ross was shifted to defensive back at Boston College where he played under Pat's Coach, Mike Holovak . . . At B.C. he won the 1960 Tom Scanlon trophy for combining top-notch football ability with qualities of loyalty and sportsmanship . . . Still single, Ross will begin work for Boston's new Commonwealth National Bank in the Fall.

Babe Parilli QB 34 6:1 196 Kentucky

During his college days it was Vito Parilli who led Bear Bryants' eleven into the Orange, Sugar, and Cotton Bowls . . . During 1962 it was the same Parilli who, despite a broken collar bone in the tenth and vital contest in Houston, wound up with 140 pass completions out of 253 attempts for 1988 yards, 18 TDs and a league all-time record of only 8 interceptions . . . And in 1963 it was the "Sweet Kentucky Babe" who guided the inspired Patriots to the Eastern Division Championship . . . Following hitches with the Browns and Packers, Babe played with the Ottawa Rough Riders in the Canadian League and was a member of the Oakland Raiders when the Bostonians nabbed him along with Billy Lott in the biggest trade in AFL history up until that time . . . He alternated with Butch Songin until the final three games of 1961 when Songin was injured and Babe established himself as the #1 QB.

Pete Pedro HB 23 5:8 172 West Texas State

"Pistol" Pete, as he was named by Lynn Item sports writer, Red Hoffman, is the most electrifying runner to play in the AFL since Jack Larscheid wore the black and gold of the Oakland Raiders . . . Fast and deceptive, Pete is a kickoff and punt return specialist . . . A native of Lynn, Massachusetts, Pete led the nation in scoring as a sophomore with 22 TDS (two short of collegiate record of 24 held by Art Lupino of Arizona State University) . . . He led the nation in ground gaining as a Junior in mid season but finished sixth when he tore a cartilage in his ankle . . . As a senior, Pete again started fast, but hurt his knee.

Jesse Richardson DT 34 6:2 265 Alabama

Big Jess began playing football before Jon Morris and J. D. Garrett had seen the light of day . . . For nine years "Marlon" as he is called by his teammates starred for the Philadelphia Eagles . . . This is his third year with the Pats . . . All NFL selection in '59 and '60 Jess was the main reason the Eagles won the Championship . . . The only pro in either league to play without a face mask, Jess has engendered more enthusiasm on the playing field than the most eager rookie . . . During the off season the affable Philadelphian is an electronics executive.

Tony Romeo TE 26 6:3 220 Florida State

Anthony Lamar Romeo is part Italian and part Cherokee and he belies his dual ancestry by his aggressive play . . . an ordained Baptist Minister, Tony was acquired in a trade with the Dallas

Texans following the 1961 season . . . One of Babe's favorite targets, Tony is also a valuable blocking asset . . . He has his B.S. in Business Administration from Florida State where he was Captain during his senior year . . . Tony divides his off season time between his preaching duties and studies at the Southwestern Theological Seminary.

An original Patriot, Jack reported to camp this year in the best shape ever . . . Jack just became engaged this spring . . . Aggressive, effective, eager, and strong are all epithets that describe one of Coach Dodd's best Ramblin' Wrecks . . . Drafted by the NFL Lions, Jack chose The Patriots and is glad of it . . . Jack had a great season in '60, was sidelined in '61 but made a strong comeback . . . He has been a feature at the corner linebacker spot and will be for many years to come.

Len St. Jean DE 22 6:0 235 North. Michigan

Len was 8th draft choice of the Pats last fall and came to the Boston Club highly recommended by his coach . . . A fullback in high school, Len gives a 100 per cent effort every minute to whatever he is doing . . . NAIA All-American in '63, Len was also sought after by the NFL Green Bay Packers . . . Len's family is in the lumber business and during the off season, Len pitches in as a lumberjack at the family logging camp in Northern Michigan . . . Len can carry logs weighing up to 600 pounds.

Bob Schmidt Tackle 28 6:4 250 Minnesota

Bob formerly wore the Columbia Blue and White of the Houston Oilers . . . Came to Pats during training for high draft choice . . . All East center for three years . . . Impressed Mike Holovak at All Star game last January . . . Started his pro career with Cardinals in '58, but was traded to Giants following exhibition season . . . Played three seasons at New York as center and tackle . . . Sent to Minnesota in '61 player pool, then signed with Houston as free agent . . . Greatest asset is as a pass protection blocker.

Al Snyder HB 23 6:1 196 Holy Cross

"Spike" as he was dubbed by his father, made a great bid to become a Patriot last season . . . He was having an excellent day in the final pre-season game at Rutgers Stadium in New Brunswick, New Jersey when he tore a cartilage in his knee . . . repeated his performance at Rutgers this year by grabbing two TD passes in the pre-season exhibition contest with the New York Jets . . . was 32nd in a class of 160 at B.C. Law School last year . . . Earl Blaik Scholar as a senior at Holy Cross . . . Catholic All-American selection as a senior, Al was also AP All-East . . . The Baltimore native, is perhaps the most avid reader to ever join the Patriots.

Chuck Shonta DB 26 6:0 190 East. Michigan

"Tonto" as he is called by his fellow Patriots is of American Indian ancestry . . . Regular cornerman for the Patriots in their initial campaign, Chuck was cut the following year, but was one of the first players recalled by Coach Mike Holovak when he took over the Pats in mid season . . . He was a regular the remainder of the season and through 1962 . . . Retired after the '62 season to coach at his Alma Mater, but returned to the active list when none of the rookie defensive backs could fill the bill and regular Don Webb came up with a leg injury that sidelined him for the entire '63 season . . . Chuck's brightest moment with the Bostonians came in 1960 when he picked up a fumbled punt and raced to the end zone to score a TD which defeated the New York Titans as the final gun sounded.

Has been with the Pats since their first year, and was the least heralded of seven Syracuse products who reported on July 4th, 1960 . . . Although he suffered crippling injuries in three of his four pro seasons, Tommy and Bob Yates are the only remainders of those seven candidates still in red, white, and blue . . . First string tight end in 1960-61, Tom missed most of the '62 season with a prolonged virus attack, but played in several positions in '63 . . . This year he had his best training season showing brilliance on offense, defense, and as a punter . . . During his sophomore year at Syracuse, Tommy played behind the celebrated Jimmy Brown, then moved into the starting fullback slot in his junior season . . . All-East in '58.

PETER C. SIRAGUSA—Musical Director

Ever since the spectacular pre-game and half-time presentations that went with the Patriots' triumph over the champion Oilers in the Harvard Stadium, people have been asking who organized the musical end of that program.

The answer is 34-year-old Peter Siragusa, a native of Belmont, who now resides in Brighton with his wife, the former Gloria Assanti of Arlington, and their five children, Francis 11, Stephanie 9, Peter, Jr. 7, Mark 6, and Gloria 4.

He is the same fellow who arranges the schedule of bands for the Patriots' contests played at Boston University Field.

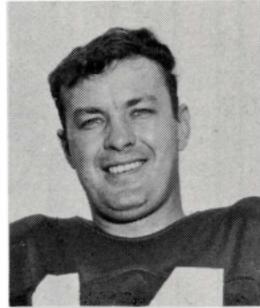

In addition to serving as Director of Entertainment for the Pats, Peter is Director of the Boston College and Boston Fire Department bands and is a member of the Music Department in the Boston Public Schools.
